Waupaca Area Counts Second Hunting Death

Lester Suehs, 41, Manawa, Killed Near Ogdensburg

WAUPACA — Lester Suehs, 41, 265 W. Howard St., Manawa, became Waupaca County's second hunting victim of the week when he was killed by a shotgun blast as he hunted Thanksgiving Day near Ogdensburg.

Waupaca County authorities said Suehs was hunting in a party of nine hunters when he was shot in the chest with a 12 gauge shotgun fired by Roger Bonikowski, 30, route 1, Ogdensburg.

The death brought to six the number of hunters killed since Saturday when the season opened. The overall total of dead has reached 21 with 15 apparent heart attacks. The number has topped the 18 fatalities reported during the similar nine day season last year and matches the 21 which the conservation department later set as its official total for last year.

Suehs' death occurred on the Bertha Rassmussen farm approximately one-fourth mile north of the Ogdensburg village limits about 12:30 p.m.

According to one member of the party, the group was going to make one more drive through the woods in an attempt to flush deer before going home to Thanksgiving dinner.

Authorities said Bonikowski was shooting at a deer which ran about 20 yards in front of him. At the time he started firing, Suehs was in a gully about 130 yards away and down on one knee.

Seven Shots

Bonikowski fired seven shots at the deer. A witness said he saw Suehs hit with either the first or second shot.

The hunter was pronounced dead on the scene by Coroner Dr. Sam Salan. The body was taken to the Bauer Funeral Home at Weyauwega and funeral arrangements are being made at the Booth Funeral Home at Manawa.

Earlier in the week, Arthur Steinbach, 61, route 1, Manawa, was fatally wounded when his gun discharged while he was pulling it through a fence.

English Bakers Strike For Increase to $42

LONDON (AP)—Most bakery shops in half of England had no bread for sale today because of a bakers' strike.

Some 10,000 bakery workers struck Thursday for a 30 per cent pay increase from a basic 11 pounds 10 shillings—$32.20—to 15 pounds—$42— a week.

Tshombe May be Called Back To New Government of Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — There was speculation today that Moise Tshombe may be called back to the government now that his rival, Joseph Kasavubu, has been ousted from the presidency in a bloodless coup.

Tshombe supporters hailed the coup by Lt. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, who declared himself president Thursday for the next five years.

The army "believes its responsibility is to protect the people from anarchy and chaos," Mobutu said.

Friend of West

Kasavubu fired Tshombe as premier Oct. 13, apparently fearing the popular figure as a rival in a presidential election then set for next year. But Tshombe and his supporters in Parliament defeated Kimba, his replacement, on Kimba's first vote of confidence Nov. 14.

Kasavubu asked Kimba to try to form a new government, but political observers believed Kimba planned to delay naming his Cabinet until after the scheduled Parliament recess Dec 6.

Then he would not have to face another confidence vote until March.

New Premier

Mobutu named Col. Leonard Mulamba, a career army officer, as the new premier. Mobutu said Mulamba will present his government for Parliament's approval by Saturday.

Mobutu unexpectedly announced he had freed former Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga from house arrest. Gizenga is a protege of the late leftist Premier Patrice Lumumba.

It was to get rid of Lumumba that Mobutu staged an earlier coup in September 1960. In that coup, Mobutu permitted Kasavubu to remain as president and the two seemed to get along well.

New York Papers Again Headed Toward Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Representatives of the New York Daily News and the Newspaper Guild of New York, AFL-CIO, hold new talks today in an effort to reach a settlement before a 6 p.m. strike deadline.

If no agreement is reached, it will be the second newspaper strike here in six weeks and could lead again to the shutdown of six of the city's eight major daily newspapers.

Fred H. Brown, regional director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, called management and union negotiators to the session today.

A statement issued by the News Thursday night said one of the key issues, pensions, "should not be a block to a settlement."

The newspaper also expressed "hope that other differences would be resolved" before the deadline.

Precious Manuscripts, Stolen From Apostolic Library at Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Thieves have stolen almost priceless manuscripts and other objects from the Vatican Apostolic Library, one of the greatest in the world, the Vatican announced today. The loss was estimated at well over $3.2 million.

The objects missing, the Vatican said, included Petrarch's "Il Canzoniere," a book in the handwriting of the great Italian 14th century poet and scholar who is considered possibly second only to Dante.

Track Escaped Convict To Waukesha County

OCONOMOWOC (AP)—A convict who made the first successful escape over Waupun State Prison's grim gray walls in 18 years was traced today into western Waukesha County, where authorities thought he might have taken refuge in an empty summer home.

There are scores of such homes in the area, most of them closed up for the winter.

The fugitive, who was serving sentences totalling 70 years, escaped from the prison Thanksgiving Day morning, while he was working in the kitchen helping prepare holiday dinner for the inmates. He was identified on official records as Thomas Ralph Gruender, but associates said he called himself Ralph Thomas Gruender.

A car that authorities believed Gruender took on his flight was found late Thursday night at Delafield. A rifle, shotgun and ammunition that had been locked in the trunk apparently had gone unnoticed by the fugitive.

This morning, his prison clothing was found at an Oconomowoc clothing store, which had been broken into during the night. Police said that some clothing was taken and they were satisfied that Gruender had exchanged his inmates garb for civilian clothing.

After the escape Thursday, officers at Green Bay made a point of watching the residence of the judge who had sentenced Gruender, but said it was routine, and they thought the judge was in little danger.

No Threat

A Brown County sheriff's patrol car cruised through the neighborhood Thursday night where County Judge James W. Byers lives. But Sheriff's Lt. Richard Schrickel stressed that the judge had received no threats.

Schrickel said the patrol was instructed to check the judge's home periodically, but he added the one car was the normal force assigned to the neighborhood regularly.

Byers had sentenced Gruender to 70 years on six counts of armed burglary and theft and one of kidnaping.

British Probe Talks On Viet Nam Peace

McNamara Has Conference With Wilson

Nuclear Weapons Spread One Topic Set for Discussion

LONDON (AP) — Robert S. McNamara, U.S. secretary of defense, talked over European defense and nuclear problems at luncheon today with Prime Minister Harold Wilson and top figures of the British government.

Among other things, McNamara is investigating the prospects for reaching agreements with the Soviet Union to halt the spread of nuclear weapons without antagonizing the West Germans.

McNamara arrived here from Washington early today.

He will go to Paris to attend the meeting there Saturday of North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense ministers. He then flies to Saigon, South Viet Nam.

Talk Topics

Informed sources said talks at today's luncheon at No. 10 Downing St. were in the context of European defense and anti-dissemination of nuclear weapons and did not apparently deal with Britain's own defense review.

McNamara was accompanied by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and John T. Naughton, the assistant secretary of state for international security affairs. Before lunching with Wilson, McNamara met Foreign Secretary Michael

Remap Veto Is Upheld by High Court

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Gov. Karl Rolvaag's veto of the legislative reapportionment act was upheld by the Minnesota Supreme Court today on a 4-3 reversal of a lower court ruling.

The decision immediately reopened speculation that the governor would call the legislature into special session for a fresh attempt at laying out districts that meet the "one man, one vote" test of the U.S. Supreme Court.

The veto means there now are no legal districts from which the state's 135 representatives and 67 senators can be elected next year.

Associate Justice Robert Sheran wrote the majority decision. In essence, he said, the Minnesota constitution assigns the job of reapportionment to the legislative "process," not merely to the group of men who make up the legislature.

Planes Hit Rice Harvest

Military Sources Say U. S. Nuclear Carrier To Join Viet Nam Fleet

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) — The aircraft carrier Enterprise which runs on nuclear power will soon join the U.S. 7th Fleet ships that launch daily air raids against North Viet Nam a reliable military source said today.

Elsewhere giant B52 bombers supported a big allied drive in the Vo Dat Valley northeast of Saigon to keep Communist guerrillas away from a vital rice harvest.

South Vietnamese government irregulars killed 22 Viet Cong in a clash near Ban Me Thout today as fighting spread to the normally quiet part of South Viet Nam.

Pace Lessens

The torrid pace of war in recent days was tapering off and the U.S. command headquarters in the 2nd and 3rd Corps area said Thursday and today were the quietest days in November.

The 7th Fleet destroyer Orleck hammered land targets in the 1st Corps area firing 700 rounds at 19 different targets. They included Viet Cong assembly points and weapons emplacements.

In the air war against North Viet Nam U.S. Navy and Air Force planes destroyed a communications site near Dien Bien Phu a group of 22 Lighters further east and dropped the span of a bridge 105 miles west of Hanoi a U.S. spokesman reported.

The U.S. Navy announced in Manila that the enterprise and another nuclear - powered ship, the guided missile frigate Bainbridge, joined the 7th Fleet today.

Near Border

The announcement did not say where they would be deployed but the source in Saigon said the Enterprise will pull into position near the land border between North and South Viet Nam. It will be the first combat test of a nuclear-powered ship, he added.

The daily U.S. Navy air raids that the Enterprise will be supporting are bombing attacks using conventional weapons.

Military sources emphasized that the move does not mean any escalation of the Viet Nam war, nor does it suggest that nuclear arms will be introduced into the war.

But the word "nuclear" even referring only to the ship's power source carries a mighty weight in Asia.

The Enterprise will replace one of the conventional-powered carriers supporting the air war against North Viet Nam. It is America's largest carrier the sources said, but it is not capable of carrying a significantly larger number of planes than conventional carriers now in use in the area.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced the assignment of nuclear-powered ships to the Pacific last March. Two more are scheduled to join the 7th Fleet next year.

In the Vo Dat Valley 75 miles east-northeast of Saigon eight-engine B52 jet bombers blasted a suspected Viet Cong concentration menacing the joint ground operations of several thousand U.S. Australian and South Vietnamese troops.

A U.S. military spokesman indicated the B52 strike took place on the eastern edge of the 90-square-mile area where the allied forces are trying to rid the valley of guerrillas and protect the rice harvest.

Wilson Sends Secretary To Moscow to Investigate Nuclear Pact, War's End

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson pushed ahead today with a concerted diplomatic drive for a world nuclear pact and for a way to end the war in Viet Nam.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart flies to Moscow Monday to probe the Soviet Union's terms for a world pact to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

At the same time Stewart will seek to get the Soviet Union to join Britain and reconvene the 1954 Geneva Conference which settled the French-Indochina fighting and divided the former French colony into Cambodia, Laos and North and South Viet Nam. Britain and the Soviet Union were cochairmen of the conference.

First Results

Wilson's aims in the field of nuclear weapons were disclosed Thursday night by high British sources. His preparations for Viet Nam peace soundings were announced by the prime minister in the House of Commons.

When Wilson goes to Washington to meet President Johnson Dec. 17, he hopes to be able to put before the president the first results of British probings of Moscow's views.

Wilson, however, will have an earlier opportunity to talk over the situation both in the nuclear field and in Viet Nam.

There is a meeting of the alliance's defense ministers in Paris Saturday.

As far as the Viet Nam war is concerned, Wilson made it clear to the House of Commons that he believes the Communist regime in North Viet Nam remains the major stumbling block to the holding of any peace conference.

Major War

He said the peace soundings to be made in Moscow and Washington have the aim of staving off "a major war in Asia, or worse."

Eight Children Orphaned by Head-on Crash

Kenosha County Collision Kills Three Persons

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eight children were orphaned when their parents and grandmother were killed in a grinding traffic collision shortly after the family had celebrated a traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

The triple - fatality crash Thursday night drove Wisconsin's highway toll for the long Thanksgiving weekend to seven dead. The year's count reached 917, compared with 973 one year ago.

Killed in a headon collision near Kenosha were Joseph F. Fuller Jr., 44; his wife, Ruth, 32, and his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Fuller, about 72 all of Burlington.

Six persons including Fuller's father, sister and brother - in - law, were injured. The father J. Frank Fuller 77, was listed in very serious condition at a Kenosha hospital early today.

The family was en route to a funeral home in Kenosha where the sister of the elder Mrs. Fuller was lying in state. The sister, Mrs. Louise Hackbarth, 80, had died Monday.

The orphaned Fuller children range in age from 1 to 16 years. There are five girls and three boys.

Seven Killed in Iowa

Gas Is Blamed for Armory Explosion

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP) — Officials agree that seeping gas ripped apart a National Guard armory in a fiery explosion killing seven people — but they don't know how it got into the building or what touched it off.

The blast turned a lightheartened Thanksgiving Eve square dance into a nightmare of death and pain. A survivor said it was "like a bomb going off."

Forty-four persons were hospitalized with burns and about 30 of them were in critical condition.

The victims were attending the weekly meeting of the Swing Ezy Club, a square dance group with most of its members from Keokuk and surrounding communities in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.

Terrific Force

Iowa Adjutant General Junior Miller and State Fire Marshal Wilbur Johnson explored the wrecked building Thursday.

They said they agreed with local officials that an accumulation of gas had burst the building with terrific force and searing heat.

An investigation is under way to determine how the gas leaked into the building and what set it off.

Sixty to 70 people were at the square dance when the blast tore the building apart Wednesday night. Most suffered burns and injuries.

Identification Difficult

The dead had been severely burned, one so badly that officials had difficulty determining whether the body was that of a woman or a child.

Chester Starr, of Keokuk, one of those critically burned, said the roof of the combination ballroom and drill floor rose into the air, then fell on the dancers.

Digging into the rubble continued today in a search for salvageable equipment and clues to the origin of the blaze.

The armory, which cost $103,000 to build in 1953, was a total loss. Miller said it will be rebuilt probably on the same site

Contests Shape Up For Key Offices in Appleton Election

Mitchell, Seeking Fifth Term, Broehm, Sixth, Will be Opposed

Contests appeared to be taking shape today for Appleton's key municipal offices and aldermanic positions in next spring's election.

Up to noon today—the first day for circulating nomination papers -- indications were the mayor, city clerk and 20th Ward alderman may have opposition.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell, who announced Thursday he would seek a fifth term, took out papers this morning.

Shortly after, Albert G. Gerhardt, 1221 E. Fremont St., a senior electrician at the John Strange Paper Co., obtained nomination papers for mayor.

Gerhardt, 53, has been unsuccesstul in the past in seeking local and county elective positions.

Broehm to Run

City Clerk Elden Broehm also got papers and announced he would be going after his sixth term, having been clerk since 1955 and unopposed the past five elections.

Broehm is expected to have opposition this spring, however, with the announcement Thursday by City Sealer Roger LaBerge that he would seek the clerk's office.

"I have been urged by many friends, business people and citizens to seek re-election," Broehm said.

He recalled that since 1955 and until a few years ago he had served in dual capacity as clerk and city controller.

Broehm noted that while serving as Appleton's clerk, he has been on several panels, including those sponsored by the International Municipal Clerks Assn. and the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

Active in Civic Groups

A former trustee of the finance section of the Wisconsin League, Broehm is also active in local civic and fraternal organizations.

Broehm said in the past his office has received compliments from the public, commenting, "I feel that during the time I have been clerk, this office has been operated in an efficient and hospitable manner."

Broehm, 41, is single and resides at 111 N. State St. In the last general election, Broehm won the Republican nomination for sheriff in the primary but withdrew his name from the ballot and did not seek the post in the final runoff.

20th Ward Race

The 20th Ward may have a spurt of political activity with Paul W. Tusler, 32, of 1119 W. Wisconsin Ave., having taken out papers for the position of alderman, now held by Norman Beyer. Tusler, who served as city sealer for two years, is a salesman at Tusler Pontiac.

Veteran City Assessor John A. Pierre, 717 E. Frances St., also started circulating nomination papers and will be shooting for his eleventh consecutive term.

Pierre, recognized by national and state authorities as one of the most capable municipal assessors in Wisconsin, has held the post for 20 years and during that time was opposed for office but once.

In addition to holding membership in national and state associations and institutes for municipal assessors, Pierre has appeared on programs for assessors in Wisconsin and other parts of the country. He has been active in updating assessment manuals, working with state officials on the project.

Other Positions

Prior to becoming assessor, Pierre was city building inspector four years, and before that served as safety director for the Appleton Public Schools secondary system. Two years

A City Looks to the Future . . . VI

270 Acres in City's Parks Aren't Sufficient for Appleton

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton has about 270 acres of developed parks. . .but it's not enough.

The population explosion taking place in the Fox Cities region is making potential park and recreation lands scarce.

And land costs are skyrocketing in areas around the city where farm fields are being platted into residential lots.

So, planning consultants have urged city officials to think and act now to obtain park and recreation areas for the future.

A series of recommendations is contained in the capital improvement program proposed for Appleton, covering the next six-year period.

$50,000 a Year

The basic recommendation is that Appleton budget $50,000 a year between now and 1971 for construction of new wading pools, ball fields, shelters and a variety of facilities needed in modern park systems.

The park board's recent request for funds to prepare a master plan for future parks and recreation sites was timely and a St. Louis consulting firm will do the work with the project subsidized with federal grants.

When the planners who prepared the capital improvements program said it was difficult to assess accurately the needs of the park system without benefit of a plan, they couldn't have been more right.

"The provision of adequate park sites for a rapidly growing city such as Appleton is extremely important," said Harland Bartholomew and Associates of St. Louis. Their words were echoed by regional and local planners.

Some Undersized

Also in full agreement are members of the Appleton Park Board who would be the first to admit that while this city has 16 parks and a municipal golf course, some of these facilities are undersized.

For example, more than 10 parks consist of less than 10 acres, and some people who have come to Appleton to make their home over the past decade don't even know where they are located.

Some time ago Mayor Clarence Mitchell said Appleton needed a large park and recreation area which could be used for citywide events. The city council heeded his recommendation and purchased more than 95 acres northeast of the city in the Town of Grand Chute.

However, this property will not be touched until a land use plan has been prepared for it.

Rapid Urbanization

Appleton and other cities in the region may also qualify for federal aids under the Open Space Act passed by the Congress. It calls for assistance to be given municipalities in acquiring and developing park and recreation areas.

To emphasize the urgency for the city to look at its park-recreation needs projected over the next 20-25 years, consultants point out the area is urbanizing rapidly.

They have sounded a warning that the luxury of "shopping for park sites" will not last for many more years, and recommend development of a plan so sites can be acquired before they become prohibitively expensive.

Also called to the attention of the council in the six-year plan was the need for a $300,000 public swimming pool on Appleton's west side, and a new lighting system at Goodland Field for $60,000.

The overall philosophy is that young and old alike—all exposed to today's fast living pace—need more park and recreation areas to keep physically fit, entertained and exposed to the outdoors.

Police Investigate Church Break-in Outagamie County authorities are investigating a report of vandalism at St. Nicholas Catholic Church, Freedom.

According to the report, filed with the sheriff's department this morning, vandals broke a lock off the door to the church tower. Burlap was wrapped around the bell hammer in the tower and there was a quantity of used matches and cigarette butts on the floor, the report indicated.

Most Grand Chute Tax Rates Lowered

Area in Hortonville School District to Pay $4.76 More; Rest of Town Rate Down $1.50

The 1966 tax rate for most residents of the Town of Grand Chute will be cut $1.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, Thomas A. Thorson, town chairman, reported today.

The exception is for those town property owners whose land lies within Joint District No. 1 of Hortonville. There the rate will go up $4.76 to $42.57 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. Only 1.7 per cent of the town is included in the Hortonville district.

The rate for the remainder of the town, except that portion in the Butte des Morts Utility District, will be $32 per $1,000 compared with $33.50 last year. The rate in the Butte des Morts district will be $37, down $1.50 from the $38.50 collected last year. The $5 extra assessed property owners in the utility district is to pay for sewers and the sewage treatment plant now under construction.

$700,305 Total Bill

The total bill presented to the town for state, county and school taxes was $700,305 but the board applied an unexpended surplus of $73,450 to the bill, leaving $636,855 to be raised by tax levy. No tax is levied for town operations with those costs paid from income tax and other

Firm, Union Set Truce in Labor Dispute

United Grocers to Recognize Teamsters As Bargaining Agent

Union clerks were back at work and trucks were rolling again today at United Grocers, Inc., Little Chute-based food wholesalers, after a truce was arrived at in a labor dispute.

Earlier in the week seven office clerks who said they were members of Teamsters Local 563 picketed the firm because management would not recognize the union.

Truck drivers and union warehousemen refused to cross the picket lines and pre-holiday food shipments were held up.

The company notified the union Wednesday it would recognize Local 563 as bargaining agent for the clerical unit, picketing ceased, and everyone reported for work this morning.

Both union and company spokesmen said today a future meeting has been scheduled to begin negotiations.

Pending against the wholesale firm is an unfair labor practice charge filed by the Teamsters, alleging the company tried to prevent clerks from joining the union. Drivers and warehouse workers also belong to the Teamsters Union but were not involved in this week's dispute, except to honor the picket line.

The company spokesman said operations were back to normal today.

Fred Ziemann Will Not Seek Another Term

Alderman From City's 6th Ward Served 2 Terms

Ald. Fred Ziemann (6th) announced today he will not seek re-election to the Appleton Common Council.

Ziemann

Ziemann, who lives at 1315 W. College Ave. and is a forester with Combined Locks Paper Co., said he based his decision on increased responsibilities connected with his private employment.

"My duties will be taking me out of town more than ever and I will not have the time to devote to ward and city business like I would like to," Ziemann said.

Second Term

Ziemann will be finishing his second term (four years) in the spring of 1966. He made his announcement today — the first day for taking out nomination papers.

"I've enjoyed being on the council and hope I have served the ward and city as a whole," Ziemann said.

Ziemann was author earlier in the year of the outdoor burning ban. He also served on the council's personnel committee after it was first formed. This year, Ziemasn has been on the street-sanitation and school advisory committees.

Time on Job

Ziemann said with major plans in the works for the city over the next five years, it was imperative that aldermen spend considerable time on municipal business to get the job done.

Ziemann is the third incumbent alderman to announce he will not run in the spring.

Santa to Arrive In Appleton in Space Capsule

Santa Claus and his space capsule will arrive in Appleton Dec. 4 to spread Christmas cheer along Wisconsin Avenue and other northside business streets from noon to 5 p.m.

His tour will begin at the 200 block on Wisconsin Avenue and will continue along the avenue distributing goodies to the children.

Christmas music from the capsule will announce his coming. Santa's appearance is sponsored by the Northside Advancement Association.

Stevens was arrested Nov. 12 on County Trunk E, in the town of Freedom, by Outagamie County traffic police.

'Look Homeward' To Begin on Dec. 28

Careers in Paper Industries To be Explained to Collegians

NEENAH — "Operation Look Homeward" will begin Tuesday, Dec. 28, by several Fox Cities paper manufacturers.

The firms are throwing open their doors for vacationing college men and women to better acquaint them with paper industry job opportunities in their home communities.

All students in the area are invited to attend a general "Look Homeward" orientation meeting at the Institute of Paper Chemistry, 1043 E. South River St., Appleton, at 9:15 a.m., the 28th.

Thereafter, participating mills will set up open house visitations at their facilities during the rest of the week. Any interested student may visit one or several companies. Key executives will visit with the students. No fees or other expenses are involved.

Local firms cooperating in the program include American Can Co., Marathon Paper Products Group, Appleton Coated Paper Co., Bergstrom Paper Co., Fox River Paper Corp., Kimberly-Clark Corp., Riverside Paper Corp., Thilmany Pulp & Paper Co., and the Institute.

A number of other paper companies in Wisconsin also are taking part in "Operation Look Homeward," which is sponsored by the Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service.

Paper executives hope students in all fields, not jut those technically-oriented, will show up.

Our companies offer opportunities in a variety of areas, and we want to acquaint college people with all of them," said a spokesman.

"The paper industry here has much to offer and we want our home-town graduates to consider carefully before deciding to leave for good.

"We can provide career opportunities to qualified students in their home areas; in addition, we can help our communities grow economically and culturally by retaining more of the capable young people who might otherwise leave in search of careers.

"So all of us the students, the paper industry, the communities. . .may benefit greatly," the spokesman said.

Parents of students who might be interested were advised to inform their sons and daughters of the program, the first such attempted in this area.

The invitation also is extended to students at Lawrence University and the University of Wisconsin, Menasha extension, even though not residents of the Fox Cities area. In addition, local students were invited to bring along friends who might be visiting with them over the holidays.

Interested students may register by phoning 725-1535 or contacting the Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service, 104 N. Commercial St., Neenah, by letter or postcard. Parents may register for them, if they wish.

First in Program

Lawrence to Present String Quartet Music

String quartet music of the 18th and 20th centuries constitutes Monday night's program by the Loewenguth Quartet at Lawrence University. The concert, first of the season's Chamber Music Series, will be heard at 8 p.m. in Harper Hall, Music-Drama Center. All seats for the series have been sold.

Music on the program include Quartet in D Major, by Nicolas Dalayrac; Quartet Opus 76, No. 3, in G minor, by Franz Joseph Haydn; Quartet No. 5, by Bartok and Quartet Opus 95 in F minor, by Beethoven.

The Bartok score, one of the program highlights, is among six the composer wrote. It was produced in 1934, 11 years before his death. Like the quartets of Beethoven, it reflects, in terms of creative thought, the very essence of its composer. It is primarily characterized by a strong thematic development which appears in a variety of roles, including polyphonic lines and even harmonic structures. Bartok also achieved in the fifth quartet a total symmetry through related thematic identification in its various movements.

Beethoven's quartet stands in suitable contrast. The composer described it as written in a "serioso" style. It was created following an unfruitful romantic experience, and into it Beethoven is believed to have poured his deep despair at being rejected. The quartet, which has early lyrical, then melancholy moments, concludes with an unexpectedly bright, happy Allegretto agitato which is said to strengthen "by its very contrast, the feeling of pathos underlying the work as a whole."

The Haydn quartet, written at about the turn of the 19th century, is one of a mature group in which the composer shows a particularly consistent development in both technique and conception. Its style almost approaches a romantic element in terms of the organic growth of Haydn's writing.

Dalayrac, who lived from 1853-1809, was one of the most prolific of France's composers in his time. He was the author of a good many stage works and a fine set of quartets published in 1781, of which the D Major was one.

Trumpeter Swan Population Grows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trumpeter swan which numbered fewer than 100 in the United States in the early 1930s has reached a population of nearly 1,000, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall reports.

Udall said the dramatic comeback of the trumpeter native only to North America and the largest water fowl in the world, is a heartening indication many other endangered species might be saved from extinction.

Use Foil Paper to Make Many Pairs of Colored Earrings

BY CAPPY DICK

With a pair of scissors, some thread and some colored foil paper a girl can make herself many pairs of pretty earrings. The foil paper can be obtained from old greeting cards.

this type of foil has a paper surface on the reverse side, glue the two identical pieces back to back, making one piece that is gold on both sides. When the glue has dried, cut two leaves from the foil shaping them as in Figure 1. The leaves should be about an inch and a quarter long.

Do the same with the green foil and the red.

String the leaves on a piece of thread (Figure 2) long enough to slip over your ear (Figure 4) after you have tied the ends. Then curl the leaves as in Figure 2, completing the earring.

Stars may be cut from the foil and strung as in Figure 3, making another style of earring. If you have any Christmas seals left from last year, glue them back to back and string them in the same manner.

SATURDAY: How to make string and-wire zoo animals.

Hang by a thread.

Three colors of foil are needed for each pair of earrings. A good combination is gold foil, green foil and red foil. Remove a piece of gold foil from an old greeting card and cut it into two small oblong pieces of equal size. Because

Tulsa Rolls in Last Period For 48-20 Win

Hurricanes Accept Invitations to Play In Bluebonnet Bowl

BY BOB BREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

GVLENN Dobbs is not one to make rash decisions. So the Tulsa coach gave long and careful consideration to the invitation for his football team to appear in the Bluebonnet Bowl game.

It took, oh, about two seconds.

"It just so happens we can go," Dobbs said after his swift-striking Hurricane had stormed over Colorado State University 48-20 Thursday with the record-breaking passing combination of Billy Anderson to Howard Twilley setting still more national marks.

Tulsa, which finished at 8-2, will play Tennessee in the Dec. 18 game in Houston. Tennessee, 5-1-2, has two games left, including Saturday's match with Vanderbilt.

Greatest Thrill

"This is the greatest thrill of my life," said Twilley, who finished second in the Heisman Trophy voting and comes from a Houston suburb.

Anderson, who passed for a national record 502 yards against Colorado State, had to engineer a big last quarter. Leading only 21-20, Anderson clicked on last-quarter touchdown passes covering 60, 63, 51 and 13 yards.

Nebraska, ranked third in the nation, closed out a 10-0 regular season, its first perfect season in 50 years, with a 21-9 comeback against Oklahoma; Texas rallied for a 21-17 decision over Texas A&M. Cornell crushed Penn 38-14 and Virginia Tech beat VMI 44-13 in the other major Thanksgiving Day games.

The long football weekend continues Saturday with a flock of traditional ganes, topped by the Army-Navy match in Philadelphia.

Navy Favored

Navy is a one-touchdown favorite in the game, which has little but tradition to recommend it this year. The Middies are 4-4-1 and Army is 4-5, with Navy working against a tougher schedule.

Probably the most important game is Alabama's meeting with Auburn in Birminghan. Both are bound for bowl games, and the winner takes the Southeastern Conference title with him.

Alabama, 7-1-1 and Nebraska's opponent in the Orange Bowl, is ranked fifth nationally and is favored. Auburn, bolstered by an invitation to the Liberty Bowl, is 5-3-1 over-all, but 4-0-1 in the SEC. Both 'Bama and Auburn were tied by Tennessee.

In some of the other traditional games, Gator Bowl-bound Georgia Tech plays Georgia, Boston College is at Holy Cross, Arizona at Arizona State, Florida State at Sugar Bowl-bound Florida, Mississippi at Mississippi State, Baylor at Rice and

Fox Lutheran Quint Invades Lake Mills for First Game

Foxes Hold Lead of 7-2 In the Series

BY TIM PETERMANN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fox Valley Lutheran High School's Foxes will make their initial start of the 1965-6 basketball season Saturday night as they travel to Lake Mills to meet Lakeside Lutheran in a non-conference tilt.

Although FVL coach Gerhard Kaniess has not labeled the Warriors as the toughest team on the FVL schedule, he expects the Foxes will have their hands full.

FVL and Lakeside began their series in 1961-62 with the formation of the Badger Lutheran Conference and have kept it up since then although the conference has since dissolved.

FVL lost only two games in the BLC in its three years of existence and both losses came at the hands of Lakeside. FVL has won the other seven games in the series, including a pair last year.

Scores 30 Points

In the first meeting, Tom Ehlke dropped in 30 points to lead FVL to a 72-61 win. Ehlke will again be in the starting lineup this year. Paul Kuehl led Lakeside with 24 points, and he, too, will be in the starting lineup.

The second time the two teams met was in the semi-finals of the Wisconsin Lutheran Invitational Basketball Tournament. The Foxes fought back from a 9-point deficit to gain a 55-52 win. Kuehl again paced Lakeside with 17 points and another returnee, Ralph Stueber chipped in with 15. No returning Foxes hit in double figures.

FVL coach Gerhard Kaniess, who has had three weeks and four scrimmages to get ready and evaluate his team, has not yet determined a starting lineup nor a plan of attack or defense but said that he has worked a little on everything so the Foxes will be ready to counter with anything the Warriors throw at them.

Kaniess' tenative starting lineup will have senior Tom Ehle (6-2) at center, another senior Mark Dahlke (6-1) at one forward, junior Dave Tiedt (6-1) at the other forward and either senior Dennis Neumann (6-2) senior Alan Olson (6-1) or junior Howie Korth (5-7) at the guards.

Lakeside coach Wayne Krecklow has four of his starting five back from last year. They include Paul Kuehl (5-10), Ralph Stueber (6-3), Greg Bruenger (5-

Kimberly Has 13-Win Skein

Papermakers, Chuters To Renew Basketball Rivalry Saturday night

KIMBERLY —The Kimberly High School Papermakers, hungry for their first win of the season, will entertain Little Chute St. John in a battle of neighborhood rivals here at 8 p.m. Saturday.

The Dutchmen, who have lost 13 straight times to the Papermakers, will be trying to nail down their second victory of the infant campaign.

Kimberly has lost a pair of games, but was up against some formidable opposition. In their first outing, the Papermakers were defeated by defending state champion Monroe, 79-68, and Wednesday night suffered a 85-66 setback at the hands of Strong Milwaukee North.

Win in 2 Overtimes

The Dutchmen opened the season Wednesday night with a thrilling, 81-75 victory over Oconto Falls. It took two overtimes to decide the contest after a St. John cager accidentally tipped a field goal in he Oconto Falls baskel near the close of regulation play.

Kimberly will have a height advantage in the game, although the Papermakers are not blessed with the tall players which they have had in the last few years. The Papermaker attack is built around John Reider, a sparkplug guard and Gary Van Cuyk, a 6-5 forward. Other likely starters for Kimberly are Gary Gossens, Tom Weyenberg and Bob Van Gompel.

Coach Bill Fitzpatrick of the Chuters will have Gary Romenesko, Jerry Janesu, Tim Harties and Oscar Schuler leading the attack backed up by Lloyd Hackle and Dave Hammen. Romenesko paced the win over Oconto Falls with 20 points, Janesu had 16, and Hartjes 15.

Last year, Kimberly held off a chuter rally in the final period for a 62-55 victory.

Kentucky Gives Bradshaw New 4-Year Contract

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Football Coach Charlie Bradshaw was rehired Thursday by the University of Kentucky under an arrangement that will guarantee him employment security and retirement benefits.

As a starter, Bradshaw received his second four year contract as head coach. His salary was not disclosed, but it was believed to be about $20,000 a year.

Details of the arrangement are not yet complete but in general it will provide:

—A guarantee that Bradshaw may stay at the university, but not necessarily as head football coach, until he reaches retirement age, is dismissed for cause or resigns.

—A retirement, in itself an oddity for coaches, plus the "same status and same responsibilities which accrue to other university staff members."

Makes Final Pre-Conference Start

Xavier Meets Columbus '5'

Xavier High School's basketball team plays a return engagement against Columbus of Marshfield here at 8 p.m. Saturday.

The Hawks beat Columbus, 61-52, at Marshfield in their season opener last weekend but had to overcome a 13-2 deficit to do it.

Xavier will attempt to start a new home-floor winning streak in the game which will be their final pre-conference outing. The Hawks' home-court streak was snapped at 32 straight by Chicago St. Patrick Wednesday night. The out of staters ended Xavier's regular-season (non-tournament) victory streak at 62 in a row.

The Hawks have a 2-1 current season record, having toppled Wisconsin Rapids Assumption, in addition to Columbus.

Paul Rechner led the victory over the Marshfield quint, with 21 points. Don Hurley added 12 and Mike Heideman 10. Bob Koch and Dave Weber paced Columbus, with 20 and 18 points, respectively.

The Gene (Torchy) Clark coached Hawks had a trio of double figure scorers in the battle with St. Patrick. Gene Jack tallied 18 points, Heideman 17 and Rechner 13. The Hawks shot 33.8 per cent from the field (25 out of 74) and managed only a 40 per cent pace on free throws (four for 10).

Xavier's shortage of rebounding height was glaring against the towering Chicago quint, but the Hawks will meet few more teams if any with that kind of size.

The Hawks' probable starters Saturday, in addition to Rechner, Heideman and Jack, will be Tom Heinritz and Don Hurley.

DETROIT (AP) — Johnny Unitas survived one of his roughest days in the National Football League Thursday but Detroit Coach Harry Gilmer said things might have been different if his Lions could have the final 24 seconds of the game back.

Unitas, battered by the Lions all afternoon and held to 14 completions in 34 attempts, tossed three scoring passes as the Colts gained a 24-24 tie and retained their one-game lead over Green Bay in the NFL's Western Conference.

Unitas completed only six passes in the second half, five of them were in the final quarter, including 51 and 15-yard scoring tosses to John Mackey.

The Lions, who held the Colts twice deep in their own territory before the tying score, got their last chance when Pat Studstill called for a fair catch on the Baltimore 42 with 24 seconds to go.

Had Option

"I knew we had the option to try a free kick after the catch but felt we could try to complete a pass and then go for the field goal," Gilmer explained.

"I did not know that the clock would be started once we made our decision. I thought time would remain out until the ball was snapped," he said.

Milt Plum, noticing the clock was running, threw the ball out of bounds and Wayne Walker missed on a 50-yard field goal try in the final seconds.

"If I could play that last 24 seconds over, I'd do the same thing," Gilmer said. "But I'd have made darn sure that we had time out."

Officials explained later that the automatic time out after a fair catch does not apply in the final two minutes of each half.

The Lions' offense was sparked by Amos Marsh, who gained 146 yards in 23 carries, including touchdown runs of one and 62 yards. The latter was the longest scoring run in the league this season.

Scoring Pass

Unitas tossed a five - yard scoring pass to Alex Hawkins to complete a 74-yard drive the first time Baltimore had the ball.

Interceptions by Bruce Maher and Dick Lebeau set up two Detroit touchdowns and the Lions held a 21-10 halftime lead.

Plum threw a 13-yard scoring pass to Pat Studstill for the Lions' first touchdown.

Lou Michaels kicked a 42-yard field goal in the second quarter and Walker got one from 12 yards out in the third quarter for the only Lions' score of the second half.

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — "Didn't that Detroit coach ever hear of a free kick?"

The Lion-Colt game was barely over when Marv Miller, former Central Catholic (now Premontre) High School football coach, called from his home in Kaukauna.

"They could have kicked a field goal after that fair catch. . .with no opposition," Miller yelled into the phone.

"There were only 24 seconds left when the Lions called for a fair catch. . .but they try another play and Walker must try a field goal from the 49. And it was partially blocked.

"...Instead of a free kick from the 41 with nobody there to block it. Walker is a good kicker, too. It made me sick to see them blow that chance."

"If we (the Packers) lost the championship over something like that. . .it would be terrible."

This ancient rule permits a team to try a free kick after fair-catching a punt. The Packers' Paul Hornung kicked a 52-yard field goal after a fair catch in the Bear game here last year.

Miller, one-time footbll star at St. Mary's of California, said that "we called for the free kick after a short punt many times in high school football. It's an easy way to get three points. And it might have won for Detroit and helped Green Bay.

The tie still changes the complexion for the Packers.

Packers Stage Light Workout, See Colts on TV

'Tie Is Better Than Baltimore Victory,' Says Bays' Jordan

GREEN BAY (AP) - The Green Bay Packers held a morning workout Thursday, watched the Detroit Lions battle the Baltimore Colts to a 24-24 tie on afternoon television and attended Coach Vince Lombardi's annual Thanksgiving party in the evening.

The tie could enable the Packers, trailing the Colts by a half game in the western division of the National Football League, to pick up a half game on the leaders if they can defeat the Rams in Los Angeles Sunday. Ties do not count in the final NFL standings and the tie did not hurt the Colts so much as a loss.

The Packers are 8 and 2 in the standings while Baltimore is 9-1-1.

Better Than Victory

"For a while we thought the Lions could hang on and win it," said Packer tackle Henry Jordan, "but a tie is certainly a lot better than a Colt victory." He said it was one of the few times he could sit back and enjoy a game.

Turning to Sunday's game, Jordan said, "The Rams have many injuries and we don't know whom we'll be playing against. But they've been doing enough jockeying around all year on offense so this shouldn't bother them too much. We do know that Roman Gabriel (Ram quarterback) has a real strong arm and you just can't knock him over to put him down. You've got to nail that guy."

"We've got to concentrate on each game," Jordan added. "If we can continue winning, then it will be winner take all at Baltimore because I can't see anyone except us beating the Colts."

The Packers, who defeated the Colts at Milwaukee this season, meet the division leaders at Baltimore in a rematch Dec. 12.

Navy Picked Over Army in Annual Tilt

Both Teams Lack Individual Star; Victory Means Successful Season

BY JIM HACKLEMAN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Army and Navy meet in their annual football classic Saturday, climaxing what truly has turned into a one-game season for both teams.

The cliche of Army-Navy meaning everything for the service squads, of what has gone before meaning nothing is a reality this time Both go into the showdown with mediocre records, no outside prestige at stake, and no glamorous stars to show off

Nonetheless, the usual enthusiastic crowd of some 100,000 will pack mammoth John F Kennedy Stadium in Philadelphia for the extravaganza, which will be nationally televised by NBC starting at 1:30 p m. EST.

Navy is rated a touchdown favorite The Middies have a 4-4-1 record in their first season under Coach Bill Elias, against somewhat sterner opposition than Army faced

Army Is 4-5

Army, in Paul Dietzel's fourth year as West Point coach, has won four and lost five.

Both teams field strong, aggressive defenses but Navy should have the definite edge on attack with a more diversified and balanced offense. Army relies heavily on a running game that has been less than dazzling, while the Cadets' passing is so spotty that even Navy professes to have no fear of it.

Defensively, Army is something to watch, however, Townsend Clarke, a fierce and clever 210-pound linebacker, leads the unit that also has standouts in linebacker Pete Braun, tackle John Carber, middle guard Vince Casillo, ends Tom Schwartz and Sam Champi, and back Don Dietz.

Braun, Carber and Champi will play both ways for West Point

Navy's defense emphasizes constant, quick pressure with fast-changing alignments and lots of blitzing Don Downing, Gary Gray, Chris Hoch, Ron Buschhorn and Fred Moosally are among the Middies who will be firing in Backfield Changes

Both sides have made backfield changes for this finale, and Army probably will go with a new formation The Cadets are expected to switch from flanker-T to wing-T, discarding the wide man for another runner

Army's starting backs include Curt Cook at quarter, Sonny Stowers and Fred Barofsky at half, and Mark Hamilton at full. Stowers is the top West Point ball carrier and prime offensive weapon Barofsky has alternated at quarterback and fullback, and could be utilized on pass-run options.

To counteract Navy's driving defense, Army might be forced to pass more than usual.

Starting Two Fullbacks

To give the Middies more experience and better blocking, Elias is starting two fullbacks, 5-foot-6, 200-pound Danny Wong and rangy Al Roodhouse, along with two sophomores, quarterback John Cartwright and halfback Rob Taylor.

Roodhouse replaces Terry Murray, a sophomore halfback who is Navy's leading ground gainer.

In points scored and allowed, the two rivals are amazingly close. Navy has scored 121, allowed 122, and Army's figures are 112-125. Navy tied Stanford, a team that whipped Army, and both lost to powerful Notre Dame.

The Middies have dominated the 75-year-old series in the post-World War II period and had a string of five straight victories going last year when the West Pointers sprang an 11-8 upset. Over-all Army leads 31-29-5.

Bondeson Tops Cajun Classic

Waupaca's Gib Kizer Trails by 4 With Opening-Round 70

LAFAYETTE, La (AP) — Two blond giants who hit a golf ball a country mile were in the spotlight today as the $30,179 Cajun Classic — traditionally the final tourney on the PGA national circuit each year — went into its second round.

One is Jack Nicklaus, who not only has won two Masters' titles but has become the master of about all he can see on the fairways in just four years

The other is Paul Bondeson, a 25-year-old ex-paratrooper who has never won a tournament. He had to lay off the tour during the summer to get what he calls his attitude straightened out.

By attitude, Bondeson — who made his first start in a PGA tourney at the Cajun Classic four years ago — means his tendency to get rattled and despondent over a bad shot and blow sky high.

Bondeston cut six strokes off par for a 66 and the first round lead in the Cajun Classic Thursday. A bogey on the final hole, a par 3 with a yawning lagoon in front of the green which he overshot, kept the handsome swinger from having a 65.

There's another golfer in good position to win his first tournament. John Josephson, a youngster from New Jersey who's playing in his first PGA tourney, carded a 68 and shared second place two strokes behind Bondeston with eight others including tour fixtures Frank Beard and Bert Weaver No pro — not Nicklaus, nor Arnie Palmer, nor Gary Player—ever won his first time out.

Nicklaus, despite trouble with two par 5 holes remained in contention with a 69

The Golden Bear electrified the gallery following him on the beautiful 75 degree Thanksgiving Day by booming a drive almost 400 yards on one par 5 Then he took a nine iron and hit the pit The ball rolled past two feet and the Columbus, Ohio shotmaker tapped it in for an eagle

Bondeson also got an eagle on a par 5, using a four wood on his second shot to place the ball four inches away from the cup

Waupaca Country Club pro Gib Kizer fashioned an opening round of 70 to tie with 24 others, four shots off Bondeson's pace. Kizer's 2-under par score came on nines of 37-33.

Boston at New York

Houston at Kansas City

SAN DIEGO, Calif (AP) — The San Diego Chargers thought things were all sewed up tight in their American Football League match with the Buffalo Bills, but the Bills broke loose in the last six seconds to score a field goal, tying it up at 20-20.

And that's how it ended Thursday, giving the Chargers their third tie of the season. The Chargers stand one game behind Oakland's Raiders in the Western Division.

Buffalo, with a record of 8-2-1 for the season, needs but one more victory to clinch its second straight Eastern Division title.

The last minute field goal was made by Pete Gogolak from the 22 yard line The kick was set up by quarterback Jack Kemp, who tossed a 35-yard pass to end Paul Costa He then scrambled to the Chargers' 15

"If we had caught Kemp when he scrambled," said Chargers' Coach Sid Gillman, "we would have won the ball game There wouldn't have been enough time for the Bills to run another play."

Said Kemp "I almost lost it I had to do something to get it back"

Kemp was referring to an intercepted pass caught by Dick Westmoreland that set the Chargers up for a touchdown The touchdown had come a few minutes earlier, and had given the San Diegans a 20-17 lead.

"I felt we should have won I'm not satisfied with a tie," Kemp said.

The story Thursday was much the same as last year's Thanksgiving Day game It was Gogolak—the AFL's leading scorer, with 88 points —who won the game for the Bills with a last-minute field goal. Tthe score 27-24.

Cards, Giants Underdogs

Cleveland Favored to Clinch Crown Sunday

BY JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland can wrap up the Eastern Conference title in the National Football League Sunday if it beats the Steelers and both the Giants and Cardinals lose. It figures to happen

The Browns are in good shape to take advantage of the battered Steelers, who probably will have to go without Bill Nelsen again. Chicago is favored to whip New York and the underdog Philadelphia Eagles have a good chance of upsetting St. Louis.

With the help of the Giants, the Hand-picker got by 7-2-1 last Sunday making it 47-23 in the NFL, 20-14-4 in the AFL and 67-37-4 over-all with four weeks to go. Let's try again. (All games Sunday)

NFL

Cleveland 27, Pittsburgh 10 — Steelers really hurting with Tommy Wade likely quarterback replacement for ailing Nelsen and both Roy Jefferson and Art Hunter out for season. Browns were lucky to get by Dallas with help of interceptions. It took last minute pass by Frank Ryan and a 168-yard day by Jim Brown to give Browns 24-18 edge in first meeting with Steelers

Green Bay 24, Los Angeles 14 — Sick Packer offense got well last week against Vikings Rams' front four will give Bart Starr stronger rush than Vikings but LA in trouble with Bill Munson out for year plus leaky defense. It shouldn't be as tight as 6-3 Packer win two weeks ago.

Philadelphia 28, St. Louis 27 — Eagles upended Cards in season opener 34-27 and St. Louis is battered with Charley Johnson doubtful and both safety men, Larry Wilson and Jerry Stovall, and fullback Joe Childress out for season. A big day for Timmy Brown. Cards favored.

Chicago 35, New York 21 — Bears hit too hard for Giant defense with Gale Sayers' fancy moves and Andy Livingston's power. Bear linebacking trio and pass rush will give Giants' pass blocking big test. Both can be had on defense.

San Francisco 31, Minnesota 28 — John Brodie in fine form with running of John David Crow and Ken Willard to go with passing attack. Vikings will miss Tommy Mason but Fran Tarkenton should have field day in air. Another wild one, like the 42-41 win by the Vikings in their first meeting. Minnesota favored.

Dallas 21, Washington 17 — Flip a coin in this one Redskins favored but it looks like a toss-up Cowboys won 27-7 Sept. 26 with Bob Hayes scoring twice and Washington losing four fumbles. Both teams erratic but Dallas has more punch.

Kansas City 28, Houston 21 — Loss of Chris Burford a blow to Chiefs but Oilers showed little against Jets Charley Tolar's 112-game streak to be broken by knee injury. In first game, Oct 24, Kansas City led 17-0 at end of half but Houston pulled it out 38-36 on five TD passes by George Bianda.

Spartans Led 19 Categories, Set New Record

CHICAGO (AP) — The top-ranked, Rose Bowl-bound Michigan State Spartans set one Big Ten record and tied another in leading 19 categories to dominate final team football statistics released Friday

Their new record is holding opponents to 34 6 rushing yards per game (1 11 per play) The old mark was 58 2 by Minnesota in 1962

They tied a defensive record for fewest first downs by rushing in a single game —zero by Ohio State Oct. 16

Purdue matched a league record for fewest fumbles per game 1 3, Indiana's yield of an average of 21 6 first downs per game was a new mark.

Rangers Have Lighter Wallets After Fines Totalling $1,800

MONTREAL (AP) — New York Ranger General Manager Emile Francis and a dozen of his players are carrying lighter wallets today after National Hockey League President Clarance Campbell levied $1,800 in fines for their part in last Sunday night's brawl at Madison Square Garden.

Campbell fined Francis $250, lagged seven Rangers $150 each and five others $100 apiece for the melee which resulted after Francis left his side arena seat to argue over a disputed Detroit goal with judge Arthur Reichert

The peppery general manager was exchanging angry words with Reichert when an unidentified fan joined the hassle. Suddenly the fan and Francis began throwing punches

When they saw their GM in the middle of the hassle, several Ranger players scaled the 10 foot glass partition and came to Francis' aid Fined $100 each for leaving the ice were Vic Hadfield, Earl Ingarfield John McKenzie Arnie Brown and Harry Howell

Seven other Rangers left the New York bench and went into the stands Campbell fagged each of them — Don Simmons Mike McMahon, Wayne Hillman, Larry Mickey, Rod Seiling, Garry Peters and Lou Angotti — $100 for going into the stands and an extra $50 apiece for leaving the bench

It took Garden police 10 minutes to separate the players from the milling fans and Francis suffered a two-stitch cut over his left eye

Campbell said he had examined reports from the game officials and statements from individual players before levying the fines "The principal problem," Campbell said, "has been to identify the individual players who took part in the melee and the degree of their participation"

The NHL president said his investigation into the incident did not determine the extent to which each player had been involved

"But in my opinion," he said, "this is not of any importance, because all who did are equally guilty of improper conduct in leaving the playing surface and invading the spectators' seating area where they have no business to be under any circumstance"

Nebraska Tips Sooners To End Year Unbeaten

BY JIM VAN VALKENBURG

LINCOLN, Neb (AP) — Nebraska's talented team has given Bob Devaney his first perfect season in college football, and the nation's winningest coach made it clear he considers his team No. 1 no matter how the national poll voting goes.

"This is the high point of my career," he said Thanksgiving Day after his Big Eight champs rallied to whip stubborn Oklahoma 21-9 before 52,865 and a national television audience.

The normally unemotional Huskers, ranked third nationally, tossed Devaney and his assistants under the showers.

"This is the best team we've ever had and these boys are as good as anybody," Devaney said. "The 1963 team (10-1, Orange Bowl, Big Eight champs) was good but it lost one. This year's team maintained its poise in tough situations.

"It has better personnel, more talent, more depth and it's more explosive. Many times it's harder to win 10 when everybody expects it than when you sneak up on it."

First Since 1915

Nebraska locked up its first perfect season since 1915 and will take a 10-0 record against once-beaten Alabama in the Orange Bowl.

Devaney thinks this one may be the best bowl games this season.

"Just look at Alabama's great bowl record," he said.

Devaney's 73-15-5 record for an .812 percentage leads the nation's active college coaches. He is 38-5 at Nebraska, with four bowl teams and three straight Big Eight crowns. At Wyoming his record was 35-10-5.

Halfback Harry (Light Horse) Wilson led the Huskers Thursday with a 66-yard touchdown run and raced behind the secondary for a 38-yard TD pass from Bob Churchich, both in the third quarter.

The Huskers gained revenge for Oklahoma's season-ending 17-7 upset last year that spoiled a perfect record. But they had to do it the hard way. The fired up Sooners hit hard, blocked a punt and pounced on three fumbles for a 9-0 lead. Charlie (Choo Choo) Winters made it 9-7 at halftime with a 29-yard TD blast, running over two men.

Chuck Mulroy Honored by Polar Bears

Coach Robert Newhouse presented 22 letters to varsity players. Seniors are Rollie Bessette, Jim Brenneke, Bob Crawford, Bruce Kluge, Tim Morrissey, Chuck and Mike Mulroy, Bill Sauberlich and Jerry Williams.

Chuck Mulroy led the team in scoring with four touchdowns and rushed for 143 yards in 34 attempts, for a 4.2 average. Williams, the regular fullback, lugged the ball 50 times for 124 yards. Mike Mulroy was an offensive guard and defensive linebacker.

Black Hawks, Boston Score Wins in NHL

Don't look now, but the Boston Bruins, who've spent more time in the National Hockey League cellar than they care to think about, are peeking out at the rest of the circuit.

Boston, basement finisher in each of the last five seasons, moved into a tie for fifth place Thursday night by thumping New York 6-2 while Chicago was topping Detroit 3-1.

The victory gave the undermanned Bruins 10 points — the same number as Detroit. The Red Wings, defending NHL champions, have won just three games, one less than Boston.

The slumping Red Wings dropped their fourth straight to Chicago as the Hawks jumped into a first place tie with idle Montreal.

Tulsa Rolls in Last Period For 48-20 Win

Southern methodist at Texas Christian.

Ranked Sixth

Notre Dame, ranked sixth after losing last week's tough battle with Michigan State, closes out at Miami. Wyoming is at Southern California, Brigham Young at New Mexico, and West Texas State at Texas Western in others.

Colorado State played it close for three periods, but the spectacular Tulsa attack finally proved too much.

Anderson completed 37 of 57 passes for a record 502 yards. Five went for touchdowns. Twilley caught a record 19 of them, for two touchdowns and 214 yards.

In addition to his two touchdowns, Twilley kicked four extra points for a total of 16 points, and a season output of 127, clinching the national scoring title. He's the first end ever to win it.

Anderson finished his regular season career with 11 national records, Twilley with 10.

Anderson holds records for most pass attempts in a game, 65; most attempts in a season, 509; most completions in a game, 42; most completions in a season, 296; most total plays in a season, 585; most total offensive plays in a season, 585; yards gained passing in a season, 3,464; total offense in a season, 3,343; and passing yardage in a game, 502.

Twilley's records include season touchdown catches, 16; career touchdown catches, 32; passes caught in a game, 19; passes caught in a season, 134; passes caught in a career, 261; yards gained received in a season, 1,779; yards gained receiving in a career, 3,343; touchdown passes caught in a game, 5; conversion passes caught in a season, 6; conversion passes caught in a career, 12.

Texas' embattled Longhorns also had to overcome a 17-0 A&M halftime lead and the morale-shaking effect of a trick play that netted 91 yards and a touchdown. Jim Helms smashed over for two last period Texas touchdowns that enabled the Longhorns to finish with a 6-4 record.

The trick play involved a lateral, which appeared to be an incomplete pass. After slamming the ball on the ground in disgust, and while the defenders were trotting back to position, Harry Ledbetter scooped up the ball, hurled a pass to Ken McLean, who trotted in with a 91-yard touchdown play.

Spartans Rise In Nation's Total Defense

Notre Dame Dropped From Rushing Lead; Tulsa No. 1 Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan State's great defensive effort against Notre Dame not only solidified the Spartans' position among the nation's major college defense leaders, it shook up the offense standings as well.

State, the nation's leader in rushing defense and second ranked in total defense, held Notre Dame to minus 12 yards running.

This effort removed Notre Dame as a threat to rushing leader Nebraska by dropping the Fighting Irish from second to ninth. Notre Dame's failure to score a touchdown against the Spartans dropped it from first to fifth in the scoring race. Nebraska now is the leader.

Statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed that the Spartans' effort against Notre Dame's running was the finest by one major team against another in four years.

State's rushing allowance of just 45.6 yards a game this season also has been bettered only once in 18 years — Syracuse allowed opponents only 19.3 yards a game in 1959.

The statistics also revealed Tulsa leading in total offense and forward passing, Southern Mississippi first in total defense, Toledo first in pass defense and Texas No. 1 in punting.

Spartans' Jones Wins Big Ten Scoring Honors

CHICAGO (AP) — Halfback Clinton Jones of Michigan State won the all games Big Ten scoring championship this year with a total of 74 points.

Jones scored 12 touchdowns and added two extra points to his total to finish well ahead of Bob Griese of Purdue who finished with 62. Griese prevented the Spartans from making a clean sweep of the top three spots.

Bob Apisa of the champion Spartans was third with 56 and Dick Kenney, also of MSU, was fourth with 53.

Bob McKelvey of Northwestern shared a three-way tie for fifth place, with 48 points.

Quarterback Fred Custardo's 25 points after touchdown enabled him to best two Illinois teammates for eighth place. Custardo's scoring total was 43.

Cyril Pinder and Jim Grabowski of the Illini each had 42 points to share a four-way tie for ninth place.

Colts Take Advantage Of Double Coverage

DETROIT (AP) — Everybody had something to say but Johnny Unitas.

"I bet he's never been knocked down so many times in his life," said Detroit Lions defensive end Sam Williams.

The great Baltimore Colts' quarterback sat across the hall, weary but uncomplaining. His two fourth-quarter touchdown passes to end John Mackey salvaged a 24-24 tie with the Lions.

"He's had a good going over before," said admiring Don Shula, the Colts coach.

"We just went to work as we should have been doing all along," Shula continued, speaking of how his team overcame a 21-10 halftime deficit to force a tie.

"We noticed they were double teaming Jimmy Orr," he added. "I guess they were afraid of him."

Take Advantage

"So then we just started taking advantage of the other side," Shula said.

Lions Coach Harry Gilmer was impressed with the way the defending Western Division champions came back.

"They're tough because they can score without making drives," he said.

The Lions struck early for three touchdowns, largely on defense and the running of Amos Marsh. The fullback picked up 146 yards in 23 carries and scored twice.

"We saw a weakness and kept going at it," said Gilmer, referring to the weakened right side of the Colts defensive line. Don you can't ask for more than Shinnick and Ordell Braase that."

Shinnick and Braase were out of action with injuries. Shula said, "This tie doesn't help us but we've still got to beat the tie but said his team the Packers." The two teams "played their hearts out and meet Dec. 12 at Baltimore.

win the Western Division Championship.

If the Packers win their last four games, including one over the Colts, they would finish with a 12-2 record for a percentage of .857.

Assuming the Colts won their other two games they would finish with 11-2-1 and a percentage of .846. The Packers would win it by 1 percentage points.

The Packers finish against the Rams, Vikings, Colts and 49ers in that order. The Colts face the Bears, Packers and Rams in their last three.

If the Colts had won over the Lions, the best the Packers could have won would be a tie, assuming they had won their last four. Thus, the tie becomes an asset to Green Bay.

"But," as Miller put it, "the Colts could tie us in Baltimore and still win it."

Titan Swimmers Win New York Cheese Again

OSHKOSH — Coach Jim Davies' Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh swimming team will enjoy a large block of New York cheese for the second consecutive year as the Titan swimmers defeated New York State University College-Plattsburg in the annual "cheese meet" Tuesday afternoon, 47½ to 38½.

Each team swam in its own pool, and results were compared by telephone immediately after the dual meet. Rules dictate that the losing coach buy a large block of cheese for the winning team.

WSU-O swimmers took four of 10 events. Winners included a 400-yard medley team of Bill Leichtnam, Mike Tanner, Jim Schwiesow and Mike Ziniel.

Individual event winners for the Titans were Schwiesow in the 200-yard backstroke, Tanner in the 200-yard breaststroke and Ziniel in the 200-yard butterfly.

Purdue's King Signs With Bills

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Charlie King, Purdue defensive back from Alliance, Ohio, who was picked as a future draft choice last year, has been signed by the Buffalo Bills, the American Football League team announced Thursday.

The 6-foot, 188-pound King will be assigned defensive back or flanker back duties with the Bills next season.

11), and Bob Broker (5-8). All are seniors. Another player to see action against FVL last year is Greg Gueldner (6-0), who will probably round out the Warriors starting lineup.

These five accounted for 44 of the Warriors' 61 points in the first meeting and 38 of 52 in the second meeting.

Lakeside competes in the Madison Suburban League. They have already played two games which have given them the much needed experience.

Sandra Haynie, Kathy Whitworth Tied for Lead

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A lack of wind may be the answer to participants' prayers in today's second round of the Women's Titleholders Golf Tournament.

In the opening round Thursday, only three of the 25 leaders managed better scores on the back nine at the Augusta Country Club than on the first nine holes as the players drove into the wind on seven of the final nine holes.

Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth, Tex., grabbed a share of the lead by carding a 35 on the back nine after going out in 36. Miss Haynie's 71 was matched by another Texan, Kathy Whitworth of San Antonio.

Third place in the first day's action went to Beth Stone with a 34-38—72. Par for the course is 72.

Five players, Marlene Bauer Hagge, Ruth Jessen, Carol Mann, Betsy Rawls and Wanda Sanchez, were bunched with 73s while three other players were only three strokes off the pace at 74.

Defending champion Marilynn Smith was among those finishing at 74.

Chicago Host To 4-H Youths

1,500 Boys, Girls From All States Join 44th Congress

CHICAGO (AP) — Fifteen hundred boys and girls from all 50 states and Puerto Rico began assembling today for the annual 4-H Club Congress, five days of serious meetings spiced with fun.

This is the 44th congress. When the first convened early in the century nearly all the delegates were from farm areas. More than half of all 2,221,000 4-H Club members now live in non-farm areas.

The delegates, representing about 96,000 clubs, won expense-paid trips for being named state and regional award winners in their 1965 club projects ranging from beef cattle raising to bread baking.

To be Announced

During the congress starting Sunday and ending Thursday 224 national 4-H winners in various categories of competition will be announced. Most of them will win $500 college scholarships.

Business and industrial firms contribute the funds for scholarships and trips to the congress and provide entertainment — breakfasts, luncheons and dinners — for the delegates.

Highlights of the program include a pop concert by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra conducted by Arthur Fiedler; a friendship party in the Aragon Ballroom; a visit to the International Live Stock Exposition, and participation in a 4-H program at the exposition.

Valley Club To Present Rock Show

The Valley Rock and Mineral Club will present a free colorful display of the lapidary arts on the mall at Valley Fair from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Dec 4.

Displays of jewlery, silver work, cabochons, lapidary equipment, mineral specimens, Indian artifacts, fossils, fluorescents and slabs will be shown. Some club members will demonstrate their work.

Fire Bomb Thrown Into Rural Church

SALEM, Ind. (AP) — Bottles of flaming liquid were thrown early today through a stained glass window of a rural Baptist church and against a second-floor window at the home of C. Rod Heinrich, Salem coordinator for the John Birch Society.

Sheriff Deputy Clyde Nicholas Jr. said damage in the church was limited to a burned table and a scorched section of flooring in the sanctuary and vestibule. The major loss, he said, would be the smashed stained glass window.

The church, Blue River Baptist, is seven miles east of Salem.

The flaming liquid thrown against the Heinrich residence in this southern Indiana city, 25 miles northwest of Louisville, Ky., bounced back from a window screen but broke two panes and set fire to two curtains.

The window was at the end of a hallway and the damage was limited to the curtains. Four children were sleeping in a room off the hall.

The Heinrichs and Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Sinkler, visiting them, moved to a motel because of smoke in the Heinrich home.

"We don't see any connection between the Birch Society organizer and the church. Two of the bottles didn't break and we are dusting them for fingerprints. But we don't have any suspects," Nicholas said.

Anagnost is associate dean of DeVry Technical Institute, Chicago.

The executive board and committee will meet at 6 p.m. with Anagnost.

Pakistan's Ayub To Visit U. S.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan will arrive in New York Dec. 12 to address the U.N. General Assembly and meet President Johnson, it was announced today.

Ayub's visit to the United States will last five days during which he will address the General Assembly Dec. 13, the Pakistan Times said.

Johnson invited Ayub to visit the United States in April but the trip was postponed because Washington said Johnson was busy dealing with the Viet Nam situation and domestic matters.

Johnson also postponed a visit then by Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India. The postponements caused irritation in both countries, but by far the most in India.

Veterans Should Update Insurance

Many Wisconsin veterans are neglecting to keep up to date on their listing of a beneficiary for their GI insurance policy proceeds. Because of this, the insurance proceeds may not be paid to the individual nor in the manner the veteran would wish.

J. P. Cullen, manager, Milwaukee Veterans Administration Regional Office, said a recent sampling in which a group of veterans were asked if they wished to change the beneficiary brought six out of ten affirmative replies. Necessary forms for these changes may be obtained from the VA Regional Office, 342 North Water Street, Milwaukee, in person or by correspondence.

Diplomats Polish Revamped Plan for Amercian Alliance

Colombian Resolution Censures U. S. for Dominican Intervention

By CLAUDE E. ERBSEN

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Diplomats are putting the finishing touches today to a broad range of plans to strengthen and update the Inter-American Alliance.

U.S. delegation sources said Thursday night they were pleased with the consensus reached at the Organization of American States foreign ministers conference here.

But one discordant note may still be sounded in the otherwise harmonious meeting.

Colombia has entered a resolution on nonintervention which by implication censures U.S. actions in the Dominican Republic. The resolution says that "a unilateral armed intervention took place in the Dominican Republic, which makes it essential" for the conference to restate the Latin Americans' cherished principle of nonintervention.

No Change in Test

Some Latin-American diplomats were reported trying to get the resolution toned down, but Colombian Foreign Minister Castro Jaramillo Arrubla said, "We have not thought of changing the text and no country has approved us to do so."

U.S. diplomats were puzzled by the Colombian move and said Jaramillo had not mentioned it in private conversation with secretary of state Dean Rusk.

They point out that with the exception of the Colombian resolution there has been a general tendency here to avoid raising the Dominican issue. "No one wants to rock the boat," a delegation source said. "Everybody wants to see the Dominican problem worked out."

Racing toward Tuesday's formal closing of the conference delegates have already agreed on:

Move Responsive

— A U.S.-backed plan to make the OAS more responsive to crisis;

— A move to incorporate the goals of the Alliance for progress into the charter of the OAS;

— A plan to hold annual top-level inter-American meetings;

— The need for another special conference next year to streamline the OAS charter.

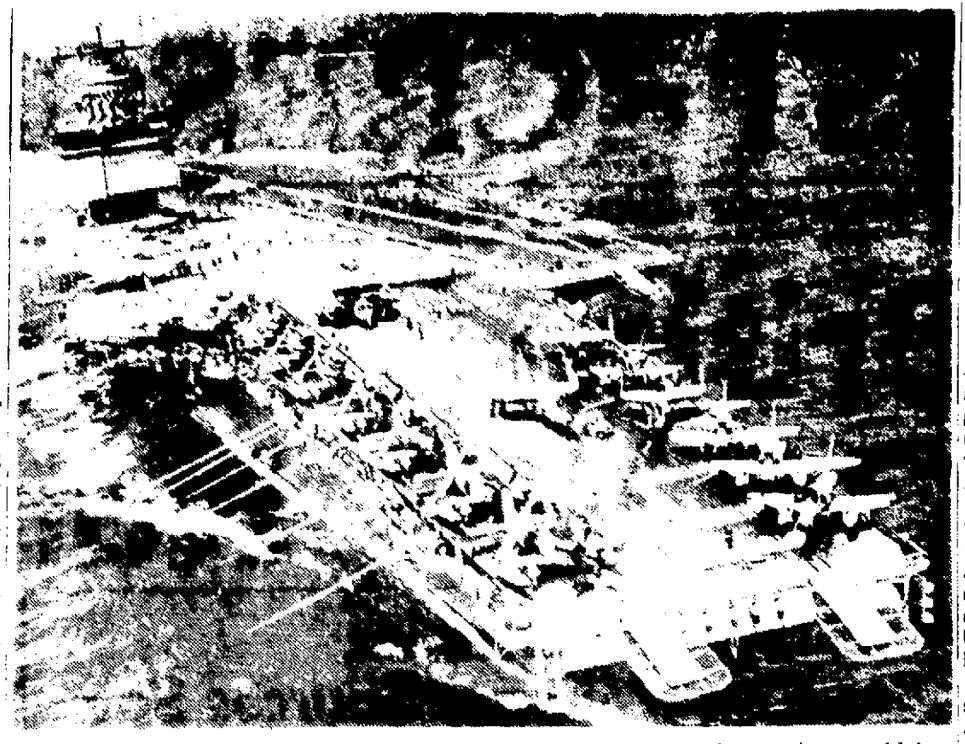
On the economic front, agreement has been reached on the need for:

—Mutual assistance among hemisphere nations supplemented by outside development aid.

—Cooperation in moving toward economic integration;

—Emergency aid to assist countries facing critical economic problems.

Agreement has also been reached on the need to refrain from following economic policies detrimental to other American nations.



The Nuclear-Powered aircraft carrier Enterprise joined the U. S. 7th Fleet today and is expected to replace one of the conventional powered carriers supporting the air war against North Viet Nam. The official U. S. Navy announcement did not say where the carrier would be deployed, but military sources in Saigon said it would pull into position near the North-South Viet Nam border where other 7th Fleet ships launch daily air strikes. Small Growths On Palms May Be Cancer Sign

Keratoses Noted Frequently in Diagnosed Cases

CHICAGO (AP) — Doctors have been advised to start reading palms not to tell fortunes but to detect possible tell-tale signs of cancerous tumors.

The suggestion was made by three staff members of the University of Oregon medical school who observed that many cancer patients shared a similar characteristic: small horny growths on the palms of their hands.

The suggestion was outlined in the November issue of Archives of Dermatology published by the American Medical Association.

The growths called keratoses are white flesh colored or yellow and so small they are often unnoticed. They were found four to five times more frequently in persons with cancer than those who did not have the disease the researchers said.

Not Absolute Sign

They emphasized, however, that the growths are not an abolute sign of cancer.

In a study group of 685 patients 7 per cent of the kreotoses found were on the psalms of persons who did not have cancer.

The researchers noted however that in a group of 671 cancer sufferers the growths were discovered on the palms of 218 or 32 per cent.

Scene of Rights Slayings

Hearing Aims to Get More Negroes On Lowndes County Jury Rolls

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A three-judge federal court opens a hearing today on a suit aimed at getting more Negroes listed on the jury rolls in Lowndes County, scene of two civil rights slayings this year.

The Negroes who filed the suit, the Justice Department, and the Episcopal Society For Cultural and Racial Unity contend that only a fractional number of Negroes have been used on juries in the county, although 80 per cent of Lowndes County's population is Negro.

The government claims that it has been the practice of Lowndes County for a half-century to keep Negroes off juries because of their race.

The suit was filed prior to President Johnson's announcement that he will ask Congress for passage of new civil rights legislation to "prevent injustice to Negroes at the hands of all-white juries." It was brought by several Lowndes County Negroes, with the aid of the American Civil Liberties Union, and amended to allow the Justice Department and the Episcopal group to intervene.

Other Counties

Only Lowndes County is involved but other suits have been filed involving other Alabama counties.

The suit also challenges the Alabama law prohibiting women from serving on State Court juries. The Justice Department, however, did not enter into that issue. The petition filed by Aty. Gen. Nicholas Kazenbach seeks only to forbid discrimination on the basis of "race or color."

The suit was filed six days after an Episcopal seminary student, Jonathan Daniels of Keene, N.H., was killed by a shotgun blast in Hayneville, the Lowndes County seat.

The 26-year-old Daniels was the second civil rights worker killed in Lowndes County this year. In March, Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo, a white Detroit housewife, was shot to death as she drove along Highway 80 near Lowndesboro.

An all-white Circuit Court jury acquitted Thomas L. Coleman, a Hayneville highway engineer and part-time special deputy sheriff, of a manslaughter charge stemming from the death of Daniels. There were no Negroes on the panel from which the jury was chosen for that trial in Hayneville, although they have been on juries in times past.

A month later, Ku Klux Klansman Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., a Fairfield, Ala., mechanic, went on trial in the same courtroom for the second time in the slaying of Mrs. Liuzzo. He also was acquitted by an all-white jury.

Another jury had earlier failed to reach a verdict in the Wilkins case. Wilkins was one of three klansmen charged with murder in the slaying. The other two, who have not been tried, are William O. Eaton and Eugene Thomas.

There were seven egroes on the panel of 70 men from which the second trial jury was chosen, though none actually sat on the case.

Plan Revealed to Assassinate U.S. Dominican Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) — A defector from the rebel forces in Santo Domingo says the group has plans to assassinate U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr., "sabotage the whole Dominican Republic" and take control of the country.

Juan Isidro Tapia, 24, said in testimony released today by the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee that some bombings were carried out after a new government took office last September. The bombings, he said, had been planned early in the April revolution.

Tapia said he served the rebels as a commando captain and decided to defect when he became convinced the rebels were not seeking a return to constitutional government, but a Communist-style takeover of the country.

The plan to kill Bennett, he said, involves putting a time bomb in the ambassador's automobile. Rebel plotters, he added, have expert technicians — some of them trained in guerrilla camps of Fidel Castro's Communist Cuba — to carry out such an assignment.

Tapia testified that weapons were smuggled out of Santo Domingo into provincial towns for use after the general sabotage began in Santo Domingo. Most of the weapons were moved out of the rebel zone in the capital through checkpoints controlled by U.S. or Brazilian forces of the Inter-American Peace Force, the witness said. He said the weapons were hidden in gasoline tank trucks, ambulances, trucks and automobiles.

Tapia said the sabotage plan included the bombing of two theaters in the rebel zone, "just to blame the aggression on the United States or the loyal forces" of the Dominican Republic.

Postponed Erhard Meeting Brings LBJ to Home Front

President Must Prepare Budget, State-of-the-Union Message

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson switches attention today to domestic programs after postponement of next week's scheduled meeting with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

The announcement that he would meet with Erhard Dec. 19-21 instead of next week gives Johnson some valuable time to devote to drafting his new budget, outlining his State-Of- The-Union program and developing his economic message.

The President and his family spent a quiet, restful observance of Thanksgiving Thursday at the LBJ Ranch.

Indications were that Johnson, who might have returned to Washington for the originally-scheduled Dec. 2-3 talks with Erhard, may be summoning Cabinet members and others to the ranch this week for reports on the progress of domestic programs.

Chancellor Sick

The West German government asked that Erhard's trip be delayed because the chancellor is just getting over a bout of influenza. He will come to the ranch for the conference two days after British Prime Minister Harold Wilson flies here Dec. 17 to talk with Johnson.

The attitude here about Wilson's statement that he intends to conduct Viet Nam peace soundings on his trip to the United Nations and in discussions with Johnson was that the prime minister meant the remarks for "domestic consumption" — to placate British antiwar elements.

Wilson told Parliament Thursday that he plans soundings in Moscow also to avert "a major land war in Asia, or worse."

The administration attitude is that Wilson knows very well where Johnson stands — that the President is determined to do everything necessary to halt aggression in South Viet Nam but at the same time holds himself in readiness to enter unconditional discussions aimed at negotiating a peaceful settlement.

Bombing Emphasis

The President was tuned in in advance on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement in Washington that "you can expect increasing emphasis" in bombing operations against North Vietnamese infiltration routes into South Viet Nam.

The secretary made the statement Thursday night at Andrews Air Force Base just before he took off with Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, for Viet Nam by way of London and Paris to give Johnson a fresh assessment of the outlook there.

King Calls For Continued Protests

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says he feels street demonstrations must continue in Alabama even though President Johnson has called for new civil rights legislation.

"Because we are protesting the whole system — from the lack of employment of Negroes at all levels of the courthouse to the jury system and the killing of civil rights workers — we feel we must continue demonstrations," King said Thursday in an interview. He said he is encouraged by the President's proposal.

He said, however, that demonstrations in Alabama will be small scale and low key and will be confined to a few counties where Negroes have marched in the past several weeks in protest to what they call unfair administration of justice.

Three Children Killed in Fire in House Trailer

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A Thanksgiving morning fire swept through a trailer here leaving three small children dead when their mother stepped out for a moment's chat with a neighbor.

The victims, Audrey, 3; Annette, 1; and Pamela, 2 months, were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Kelman of Leicester, Mass. Kelman, a fire controlman with the Navy, was aboard ship when the fire erupted.

Mrs. Kelman saw the flames from a trailer nearby but was blocked by the heat from rescuing the children. She was hospitalized in shock.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Government, Business Not On Best Terms

Observers Don't See Open Conflict, Only Grumbling

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Are business and the federal government heading for an open conflict over policy?

Most observers in and out of Washington doubt it. But discontent among businessmen with the recent trends in government's relations with business is growing.

Many grumbled when steel labor and management negotiators were brought to the White House to hammer out a contract that presumably met administration approval. Many businessmen were dismayed when the government stock pile of strategic metals for defense was used as a club to force aluminum producers to rescind a price rise. Many are alarmed that the same stock pile is being used after copper prices also rose.

Far Afield

The disagreement goes far afield from the policy of holding prices stable in an expanding economy. Government controls over most forms of business activity usually arouse both fear and resentment.

Bankers fret that interest rates aren't being allowed to rise as the increased demand for loans suggests.

A number of the nation's top industrialists have expressed discontent with the government's restrictions on foreign investments through the medium of ceilings dubbed as voluntary.

And the administration has just announced that a jump in the U.S. deficit in its international payments will lead to new rules, still called voluntary, but applying to individual cases instead of tota investments.

A number of corporate leaders have asked that the curbs be dropped soon, rather than strengthened as now proposed.

More Costly

Bankers also feel that the ceilings on the number of foreign loans they are supposed to make is more costly to them than beneficial to the U.S. balance of payments.

Labor leaders have fretted when the government pressed hard for holding wage increases within the guidelines it set up as noninflationary.

Businessmen, on the other hand, have charged that the government didn't press hard enough in the case of generous wage boosts — too hard in the case of price increases that companies thought justified by rising costs.

Some businessmen also have thought they saw the handwriting on the wall of future stricter government controls in the proposal of the Federal Communications Commission for an investigation of interstate phone rates. The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. says its rates are justified, and so are its record profits.

Raised Dividend

To reassure its 2.6 million stockholders, the largest corporate family in the nation, the company has raised its quarterly dividend a nickel to 55 cents a share. The company holds that the government agency is wrong, and that the company is right, both in needing high profits to meet large expansion programs and in rewarding shareholders so that it won't have trouble raising more funds in the investment markets.

All of these signs of business unrest with the trend of government to take more of an interest in business affairs add up to considerable turmoil.

But the administration holds some high cards — stock piles, Viet Nam war needs, public fear of more inflation, the need to keep the dollar as good as gold. And businessmen may fret, but they're unlikely to put up much resistance — at least not yet, and not openly.

Midwest Price For Fluid Milk To be Lowered

Producers Must Approve Bulk Rate Decline to $4.10

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices for fluid milk in 12 Midwestern areas including Wisconsin will be lowered from $4.30 a hundredweight to $4.10 next March if producers approve, the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced Tuesday.

The decision, following hearings here, would set Class I, or fluid, milk prices for December through February at the $4.30 per hundredweight figure prevailing this month.

The price from March through June would be set at 20 cents lower, the USDA said.

The decision must be approved by at least two-thirds of the milk producers in each of the 12 marketing areas. States affected are Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Wisconsin.

The department said producer cooperative associations in the 12 areas would be polled to determine whether the amendment to current marketing orders would take effect.

Demand Increasing

The USDA had conducted a hearing on the decision in Chicago Nov. 6 and announced the change here. It said Midwestern milk production was decreasing while demand for milk in the areas was increasing.

A long-range basic hearing on milk prices was recessed earlier to allow consideration of what the department described as emergency conditions leading to Tuesday's decision made in Washington. The hearing on long-range price standards will resume early next year, the department said.

It noted that the order does not regulate the prices consumers pay when milk reaches the supermarket.

The 12 areas include Milwaukee, Wis.; Madison, Wis.; Chicago; Quad Cities - Dubuque, Iowa, and Rockford - Freeport, Ill.

Others are Northwestern Indiana, suburbs of St. Louis, St. Louis, Ozarks, Des Moines, North Central Iowa, and Cedar Rapids-Iowa City, Iowa.

They Keep Rolling so you keep warm. Shown above is one of the modern fleet of trucks operated by the Jenkel Oil Co. They assure each customer of speedy oil delivery service, along with convenient metered service that provides a printed receipt that shows accurate amount delivered. For Skelly Furnace Oil (with SK-12 Additive) call the experts at 9-1144.

Even though the special SK-12 costs you nothing extra, it can keep your entire fuel system free of the harmful formation of rust, gum, sludge that cause most sudden furnace failures.

Since the fuel pipe in your furnace ends in an opening no bigger than a pin point, even a tiny article of sludge or gum can clog your furnace burner. With SK-12, in Skelly Furnace oil, you can prevent most cases of sudden stoppage due to a clogged nozzle, filter screen or fuel line.

You can obtain Skelly Furnace Oil, with SK-12, additive, from the Jenkel Oil Co., 1201 N. Badger Ave., Phone number of the firm is 9-1144. Emergency service — in case you run out of oil—may be obtained by calling 2-9584.

A good furnace deserves a good fuel to operate at peak efficiency, no matter how low the temperature drops. Call Jenkel Oil for the best. (Adv.)

Your Money's Worth

Farmland Changing To Recreational Use

BY SYLVIA PORTER

A friend of ours has just bought a 250-acre farm in Vermont, complete with 17th century farm house, barns, sheds and several tons of discarded relics — providing an almost archeological portrait of life in the area over the past two generations. The house is now being remodeled, latter - 20th century style, to be used as a vacation retreat for hunting, fishing, skiing and sitting.

Porter

On the surface this seems a simple tale which could be duplicated by hundreds of thousands of city folks and in hundreds of thousands of old country houses across the nation. But beneath the surface the tale dramatizes many of the most significant economic trends in America today. Consider just these few more obvious changes which have occurred in the past two generations — as periscoped in a contrast of "then" and "now" on our friend's farm.

Then: Farm land meant food alone — to feed livestock and family and to provide a modest extra cash income for other necessities. Money, as such, was a minor item in farm family economics.

Now: Farm land, in much of our open countryside, increasingly means recreation and vacation potential

Animals for Eating

Then: Animals were strictly for work or eating, and more than paid their way on the farm.

Now: Animals are strictly pets on thousands of farms, and their owners are paying an ever-mounting price for their pets' food and comforts.

Then: Virtually all the family's basic needs were made and repaired by hand, at home.

Now: Virtually all the goods and services needed are bought. Do-it-yourself activites on farms such as our friend has bought —from vegetable gardening to amateur carpentry — are mainly for exercise and fun. Money-saving is secondary.

Then: Travel usually was confined to a 10 to 20-mile radius on the farm

Now: A weekend trip, amounting to 200 or more miles to and from the farm, is routine in a 1965 car on 1965 superhighways.

Antique Tools

Then: Tools and farm equipment were for business.

Now: Many of these same tools are top sellers at antique shops and are hung on walls at home as "folk art."

Then: Affluence was new equipment, a couple of dozen cows, wallpaper in the home, a few hundred dollars in savings.

Now: Affluence is a five-figure annual income, at least two cars, at least two TV sets, the farm home in addition to the city house, a college education for all the children.

As recently as 1920, one farmer produced enough food for himself and seven other people. Today, one farmer produces enough for 33 people. In the past two decades alone, the number of U.S. farms has nearly halved. Less than 50 per cent of the 3.4 million farms left in our country today — the smallest number since the 1870's — produces more than 90 per cent of the nation's food.

Farms Disappear

Just since 1950 10 million Americans have left the farm and 2.2 million farms have disappeared from the economic landscape. The 12.9 million still living on farms add up to only one in 15 of our population. Today, three out of four of us live in cities and suburbs against one half of our population who lived on farms less than a century ago.

What these facts documenting the "then" and "now" underline is the great shift in our economy from predominantly industrial to predominantly service.

We are the first nation in the history of the world in which more than half the employed population is involved in providing services rather than producing goods. We are the first nation on earth in which soaring numbers of farms are for fun and the land around them is for leisure.

Cocoa Cow Moo-ves In

Cocoa Cow, a new powdered hot cocoa mix, will be introduced in the Wisconsin Area in early December by the Nedlog Company, Chicago.

Cocoa Cow is a unique, new product. It is made from the cream of the cocoa bean, and no artificial flavorings or additives are found in the product. The milk is in the mix, and it requires only water to make. It is sold in a box resembling a barn in design. Inside the barn are ten individual, easily-opened packages which contain premeasured servings. This means that every cup is the same, and youngsters can prepare the product themselves if mother is busy.

Because the customer need only add water, the product is instantly soluble and because it uses water, the milk is already in it, it is much more economical than the usual cocoa-type product, less than 5c per serving.

McNulty Brokerage Co., Milwaukee is local broker for Cocoa Cow. Advertising on this new product of the Nedlog Company will appear soon in the Post-Crescent. (Adv.)

Health Insurer Gives Tips to Fight Colds

If you've been applying the adage "feed a cold and starve a fever" to your colds and other minor winter ailments, forget it.

It's sometimes better, in fact, to do the opposite, say medical specialists at Aetna Life & Casualty, one of the nation's largest health insurance writers.

When you have a cold and aren't really hungry, they advise, don't eat excessively; your condition is particularly conducive to stomach upset. And don't be afraid of taking extra nourishment when you have a fever. You'll be replacing calories burned by higher body temperatures.

Balanced Meals

Your best bet, says Aetna Life & Casualty's medical department, is to eat well-balanced meals at all times. That will help you maintain the good general health that gives you an edge in combating the common cold, a malady that plagues some 20 million Americans on any given winter day.

In a public service pamphlet titled "Cold Facts About the Common Cold," the insurance company doctors offer these additional tips to help prevent colds and minimize their discomfort when they do strike:

To reduce chances of getting a cold, steer clear of cold sufferers and don's use their towels, drinking glasses, or eating utensils. Avoid cold drafts, wet feet, and fatigue.

Wash Hands

Practice good personal hygiene. Always wash your hands before preparing or eating food in your home and, if possible, in your office, especially during the winter heating season. A dry nose and throat contributes to the possibility of infection.

If a cold strikes, don't experiment with pills and medicines remaining from previous illnesses or with remedies recomore serious illnesses will imitate the early symptoms of a cold. All colds are not alike and what's right for one may not be for another.

Extra Rest

Blot, don't blow your nose. Blowing the nose may force infection into the sinuses, prolonging your cold. Use disposable tissues to blot excess mucus as necessary.

Get extra bed rest and keep comfortably warm.

If cold symptoms persist longer than a few days, or if a fever develops, call a doctor.

Tips for Highway Safety

Generally, when two vehicles approach or enter an intersection at approximately the same time, "The operator of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right of way to the vehicle on the right."

Wisconsin's traffic code adds, "The operator of any vehicle driving at an unlawful speed forfeits any right of way which he would otherwise have."

According to the Motor Vehicle Department, "failure to yield right of way" was the No. 1 possible contributing circumstance in last year's traffic accidents, playing the trigger role in 16.5 per cent of reported mishaps.

Coroners in Wisconsin are obliged by state law to report by the tenth day of each month deaths within their counties occurring during the preceding month as the result of motor vehicle accidents. The department provides a special form for identifying victims and describing circumstances.

During 1964 Wisconsin had 1,059 traffic fatalities, an all-time record. Previous highs were 956 in 1962, 955 in 1956 and 932 in 1955.

Many coroners this year have begun submitting blood specimens from persons killed in traffic accidents, so the Motor Vehicle Department's chemist can determine extent — if any — of alcoholic factor. More than half of the tests thus far indicate presence of alcohol

Extension Service to Fete Railroad Firm

Chicago-North Western to Get 4-H Crested Clover Citation

The Cooperative Extension Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture has informed the Chicago and North Western Railway Co. that it will be the recipient this year of the department's highest award for "outstanding nationwide support of 4-H club work."

Called the "Crested Clover Citation," the plaque and citation will be presented to the North Western in Chicago on Dec. 1 during the period of the 1965 National 4-H Congress.

In 4-H activities, the North Western ranks as a charter sponsor, having fostered the 4-H movement since 1923. In that 42-year period it has encouraged the 4-H movement in many ways in the nine states in which it operates.

11 Scholarships

Currently it offers 11 annual 4-H college scholarships, of which eight are in the field of agricultural economics and three are in forestry or agricultural business.

Each year during the 4-H Congress in Chicago the North Western serves as host to many 4-H boys and girls at a traditional breakfast.

The "Crested Clover Citation" from the U.S. Department of Agriculture will be made to the railroad at its annual breakfast this year by Mylo S. Downey, director of the Division of 4-H and Youth Development of the Department of Agriculture.

This award is made annually by the Fox Valley Holstein Association to two boys in each of the 10 counties in Northeastern Wisconsin. Their selection is based upon 4-H dairy records.

Harlan Volkman, route 3, Appleton, was the other 4-H member chosen from Outagamie County. Cyril Letter, President of the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders Association, and Garry Blomberg, Farm Management Agent, accompanied the two boys on the tour.

Farm Bureau Picks Seymour Area Youths

Ronald Buchmann and Jayne Mueller, both of rural Seymour, were recently selected by the Farm Bureau Young People for their outstanding participation and leadership abilities in their community. 4-H and Future Farmers of America activities.

Each year an outstanding boy and girl are selected to represent Outagamie County at the annual state convention. Miss Joan Yogerst of Appleton, secretary of Outagamie County Farm Bureau Young People, accompanied the two delegates to Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. John VerVoort, advisors of the organization, brought them home Sunday evening.

Miss Mueller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mueller, route 2, Seymour. She was a recent 4-H graduate from the Workers and Wonders 4-H Club.

Buchmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buchmann, route 3, Seymour, is a member of the Seymour FFA Chapter and the Wild Grove 4-H Club.

CCC's Loses Are Rising Again

At the end of the first quarter of the current fiscal year, the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) had lost $74,904,948 more than it did in the comparable three-month period a year earlier.

USDA has reported that CCC's total net loss from all operations, including adjustments to reserves for losses, amounted to $1,217,681,646 for the three-month period ended Sept. 30, 1965, as compared to $1,142,776,698 for the same period in 1964.

1966 Programs

Start ACP Signups In Waupaca County

WAUPACA — Initial signup period for the 1966 agricultural Conservation Program in Waupaca County will continue through Dec. 31, 1965. Requests for cost-sharing can be made at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office located in the Manawa city hall.

Cost-sharing of approximately 50 per cent of approved costs is offered as an incentive to complete needed conservation practices to protect the soil from wind and water erosion, provide food and protection for wildlife and help make rural America more attractive.

Special legislation enacted this year enables farmers with gross income of $3,000 or less to obtain up to 80 per cent cost sharing on needed conservation practices.

Cost-sharing on drainage practices is very limited. Those who still have drainage problems on cropland should file requests soon.

A special invitation is extended to farmers who have not previously participated in the program. Cost-sharing requests received by Dec. 31, 1965, will be considered. Requests made after then will be considered only if funds are still available.

Practices available to county farmers include renovation of hay or pasture land, liming of cropland; contour stripcropping or stone removal; field stripcropping, tree planting, fencing and land clearing, planting trees or shrubs to prevent wind or water erosion.

Improvement of established vegetable cover, spring or seed development, pit or pond construction, timber stand improvement or fencing, sod waterways and stone removal, diversion terraces and stone removal, erosion control dams.

Outlet protection structures, streambank protection, shallow ditching, tiling, land leveling, establishment of vegetable cover for winter and spring protection from erosion, wildlife area establishment, level ditching for wildlife, construction of wildlife ponds and rural beautification.

Junior Leaders Cancel Parley

CHILTON — The December meeting of the Calumet County Junior 4-H Leaders Association has been cancelled due to increased projects by its committees.

The leaders will assist the program chairman in arranging recreation for the Christmas party being planned for the retarded children by the Calumet County Association for the Mentally Retarded.

A bowling party and pikerama committee meeting also is scheduled for December. A vacation record hop is being arranged for all high school students in the county at Chilton Dec. 27.

An all-day recreation workshop will be held during Christmas vacation at the courthouse assembly room Wednesday, Dec. 29, and include leading singing, games and planning club parties. Club officers and members also are invited.

Northport Club Picks New Officer Slate, Plans Christmas Party

NORTHPORT — Mary Flease is the new president of the Northport 4-H club. All officers were elected at the club's meeting Tuesday.

Joan Flease is vice president, Diane Roloff, secretary-treasurer; Mike Bodoh, reporter, and Walter Rasmussen and Jean Backes, sergeants at arms.

The club's annual Christmas party will be Dec. 21 at the home of Mrs. Simon Wilson. Gifts will be exchanged.

Waupaca-Waushara DHIA Converts to Machine Records

WAUPACA — The Waupaca-Waushara Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) is currently converting to the machine record keeping system.

Presently all of the standard herds and over 60 per cent of the owner-sampler herds are on it. The machine record program gives a much more complete report with all current production information to-date.

After a cow has been on test 90 days, she has a projected mature equivalent production computed for her. This allows for early culling of some of the poorer producers. After one year on test, the machine record gives the herdsman a new monthly rolling herd average.

Check on Quality

This herd average is a good check on the quality of the roughage consumed by this herd. In any event, the machine record is a complete record designed to put all information on each cow on one sheet. This record keeping system is a vast improvement over the old system used where the test and butterfat per month and to-date was all that was received by the dairyman.

Those DHIA members who don't receive this record and the dairymen who aren't presently testing are urged to contact the fieldman or County Agent Joe Walker to receive further information on the new system.

11 New Members Join Busy Bears 4-H at Bear Creek School

BEAR CREEK — Eleven new members were received into the Busy Bears 4-H Club during their meeting at the Bear Creek High School Nov. 18. The new members are Susan Norder, Mae Shadduck, Terri Hansen, Colleen Rohan, Lynn Lorge, Debra Lorge, Geraldine Schertz, Kevin Stilen, Kathleen Locy, Darlene Locy and Patricia Bessette.

This being achievement night, the leader, Mrs. Roy Young, returned their record books and gave out the awards and checks won at the Outagamie County Fair at Seymour.

The 36 members who attended made plans for a Christmas party to be held at the high school. Parents will be guests. The group plans to carol in the Bear Creek area shortly before Christmas.

Nitingale Club to Have 4-H Agent as Parent's Night Guest

KAUKAUNA — The Nitingale 4-H Club's parent's night Dec. 8 at the Kaukauna Town Hall will feature County 4-H Club Agent Courtney Schwertz.

Parents interested in having their children join the club are invited. The Christmas party will be Dec. 9.

Speeches were given by Leon Kortz, Tom Dolan and Mike Nelsen and Bob Vander Heiden. Vander Heiden and Gary Weyers gave a demonstration. Lois Nelssen was welcomed as a new member.

Oshkosh Guernsey Sets Production Record

Moonland Brigadier Cora, a junior two-year-old, Registered Guernsey cow, owned by Warren J. Moon, Oshkosh, has completed an official DHIA actual production record of 10,160 pounds of milk and 501 pounds of butterfat, in 305 days two times a day milking, according to The American Guernsey Cattle Club.

Guernsey milk is world famous for its high protein, delicious flavor and golden yellow color. The testing was supervised by University of Wisconsin.

Stockbridge 4-H Club Picks Officers, Plans Christmas Activities

STOCKBRIDGE — The Stockbridge Village 4-H Club's new oficers are Joan Goeser, president; Kay Schroven, vice president; Ellen Goeser, secretary, and Mary Beth Karls, treasurer. Song chairmen are Rose Bushman and Jean Hemauer and reporter, Joan Hemauer.

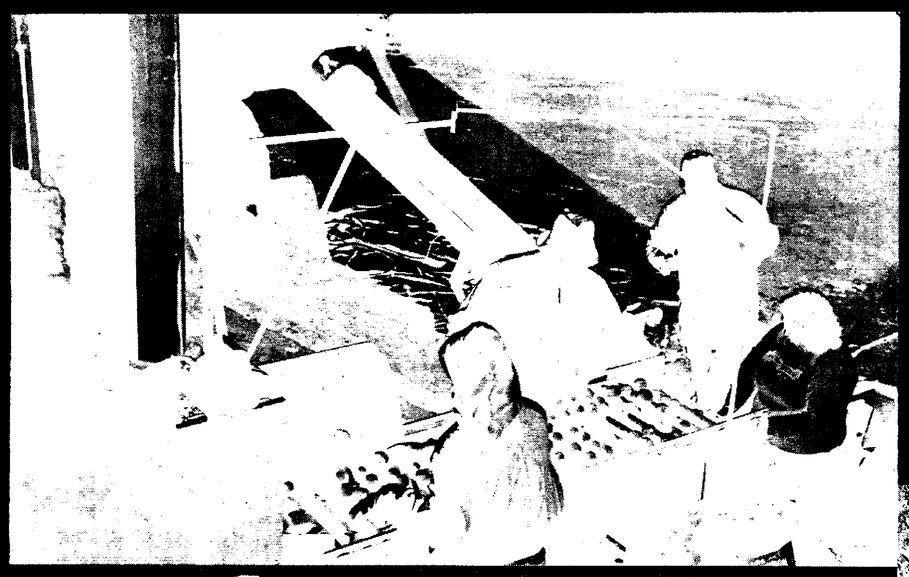
Neumann-Balliet Farms of Southeastern Outagamie County

High Yielding Onion Crop Harvested from Vegetable Center



Southwestern Outagamie County along the Rat River has developed into part of the Mid-Wisconsin vegetable bowl.

Onion farming, for instance, is in the second generation in the Neumann family at Readfield. Walter Neumann, who represents the present generation has worked with onions most of his life. His father, Adolph, started in 1936.

Most of the harvesting is done by machine. The onions are moist when harvested, placed in a large barn on the Neumann farm, dried by hot air and graded before being bagged and shipped to the city super markets.

Neumann had a partnership with his father from 1942-52 and in 1960 he purchased a topping machine. Currently he has a share arrangement with Sarto Balliet of Appleton. Together they have 50 acres in onions, a late season crop.

Wet weather had hampered harvests earlier but the warm, dry period came to the rescue. Onions do not freeze at 32 degrees.

British Probe Talks On Viet Nam Peace

Tshombe May be Called Back To New Government of Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — There was speculation today that Moise Tshombe may be called back to the government now that his rival, Joseph Kasavubu, has been ousted from the presidency in a bloodless coup.

Tshombe supporters hailed the coup by Lt. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, who declared himself president Thursday for the next five years.

Mobutu, the army commander, seized power from Kasavubu and ousted Kasavubu's handpicked premier, Evariste Kimba.

The army "believes its responsibility is to protect the people from anarchy and chaos," Mobutu said.

Friend of West

A friend of the West, Mobutu, apparently believed Kasavubu had swung away from a pro-Western policy.

Kasavubu fired Tshombe as premier Oct. 13, apparently fearing the popular figure as a rival in a presidential election then set for next year. But Tshombe and his supporters in Parliament defeated Kimba, his replacement, on Kimba's first vote of confidence Nov. 14.

Kasavubu asked Kimba to try to form a new government, but political observers believed Kimba planned to delay naming his Cabinet until after the scheduled Parliament recess Dec. 6.

Then he would not have to face another confidence vote until March.

New Premier

Mobutu named Col. Leonard Mulamba, a career army officer, as the new premier. Mobutu said Mulamba will present his government for Parliament's approval by Saturday

Mobutu unexpectedly announced he had freed former Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga from house arrest. Gizenga is a protege of the late leftist Premier Patrice Lumumba.

It was to get rid of Lumumba that Mobutu staged an earlier coup in September 1960. In that coup, Mobutu permitted Kasavubu to remain as president and the two seemed to get along well.

McNamara Has Conference With Wilson

Nuclear Weapons Spread One Topic Set for Discussion

LONDON (AP) — Robert S. McNamara, U.S. secretary of defense, talked over European defense and nuclear problems at luncheon today with Prime Minister Harold Wilson and top figures of the British government.

Among other things, McNamara is investigating the prospects for reaching agreements with the Soviet Union to halt the spread of nuclear weapons without antagonizing the West Germans.

McNamara arrived here from Washington early today.

He will go to Paris to attend the meeting there Saturday of North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense ministers He then flies to Saigon, South Viet Nam.

Talk Topics

Informed sources said talks at today's luncheon at No. 10 Downing St. were in the context of European defense and anti-dissemination of nuclear weapons and did not apparently deal with Britain's own defense review.

McNamara was accompanied by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and John T. Naughton, the assistant secretary of state for international security affairs. Before lunching with Wilson, McNamara met Foreign Secretary Michael

Military Sources Say U. S. Nuclear Carrier To Join Viet Nam Fleet

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) — The aircraft carrier Enterprise which runs on nuclear power will soon join the U.S 7th Fleet ships that launch daily air raids against North Viet Nam a reliable military source said today.

Elsewhere giant B52 bombers supported a big allied drive in the Vo Dat Valley northeast of Saigon to keep Communist guerrillas away from a vital rice harvest

South Vietnamese government irregulars killed 22 Viet Cong in a clash near Ban Me Thout today as fighting spread to the normally quiet part of South Viet Nam.

Pace Lessens

The torrid pace of war in recent days was tapering off and the U.S. command headquarters in the 2nd and 3rd Corps area said Thursday and today were the quietest days in November.

The 7th Fleet destroyer Orleck hammered land targets in the 1st Corps area firing 700 rounds at 19 different targets. They included Viet Cong assembly points and weapons emplacements.

In the air war against North Viet Nam U.S. Navy and Air Force planes destroyed a communications site near Dien Bien Phu a group of 22 Lighters further east and dropped the span of a bridge 105 miles west of Hanoi a U.S. spokesman reported.

The U.S. Navy announced in Manila that the enterprise and another nuclear - powered ship, the guided missile frigate Bainbridge, joined the 7th Fleet today.

Near Border

The announcement did not say where they would be deployed but the source in Saigon said the Enterprise will pull into position near the land border between North and South Viet Nam. It will be the first combat test of a nuclear-powered ship, he added.

The daily U.S. Navy air raids that the Enterprise will be supporting are bombing attacks using conventional weapons.

Military sources emphasized that the move does not mean any escalation of the Viet Nam war, nor does it suggest that nuclear arms will be introduced into the war.

But the word "nuclear" even referring only to the ship's power source carries a mighty weight in Asia.

The Enterprise will replace one of the conventional-powered carriers supporting the air war against North Viet Nam. It is America's largest carrier the sources said, but it is not capable of carrying a significantly larger number of planes than conventional carriers now in use in the area.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced the assignment of nuclear-powered ships to the Pacific last March. Two more are scheduled to join the 7th Fleet next year.

In the Vo Dat Valley 75 miles east-northeast of Saigon eight-engine B52 jet bombers blasted a suspected Viet Cong concentration menacing the joint ground operations of several thousand U.S. Australian and South Vietnamese troops.

A U.S. military spokesman indicated the B52 strike took place on the eastern edge of the 90-square-mile area where the allied forces are trying to rid the valley of guerrillas and protect the rice harvest.

Wilson Sends Secretary To Moscow to Investigate Nuclear Pact, War's End

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson pushed ahead today with a concerted diplomatic drive for a world nuclear pact and for a way to end the war in Viet Nam.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart flies to Moscow Monday to probe the Soviet Union's terms for a world pact to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

At the same time Stewart will seek to get the Soviet Union to join Britain and reconvene the 1954 Geneva Conference which settled the French-Indochina fighting and divided the former French colony into Cambodia, Laos and North and South Viet Nam. Britain and the Soviet Union were cochairmen of the conference.

First Results

Wilson's aims in the field of nuclear weapons were disclosed Thursday night by high British sources. His preparations for Viet Nam peace soundings were announced by the prime minister in the House of Commons.

When Wilson goes to Washington to meet President Johnson Dec. 17, he hopes to be able to put before the president the first results of British probings of Moscow's views.

Wilson, however, will have an earlier opportunity to talk over the situation both in the nuclear field and in Viet Nam.

There is a meeting of the alliance's defense ministers in Paris Saturday.

As far as the Viet Nam war is concerned, Wilson made it clear to the House of Commons that he believes the Communist regime in North Viet Nam remains the major stumbling block to the holding of any peace conference.

Major War

He said the peace soundings to be made in Moscow and Washington have the aim of staving off "a major war in Asia, or worse."

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven Killed in Iowa

Gas Is Blamed for Armory Explosion

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP) — Officials agree that seeping gas ripped apart a National Guard armory in a fiery explosion killing seven people — but they don't know how it got into the building or what touched it off.

The blast turned a lightheartened Thanksgiving Eve square dance into a nightmare of death and pain. A survivor said it was "like a bomb going off."

Forty-four persons were hospitalized with burns and about 30 of them were in critical condition.

The victims were attending the weekly meeting of the Swing Ezy Club, a square dance group with most of its members from Keokuk and surrounding communities in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri

Territic Force

Iowa Adjutant General Junior Miller and State Fire Marshal Wilbur Johnson explored the wrecked building Thursday.

They said they agreed with local officials that an accumulation of gas had burst the building with terrific force and searing heat.

An investigation is under way to determine how the gas leaked into the building and what set it off

Sixty to 70 people were at the square dance when the blast tore the building apart Wednesday night. Most suffered burns and injuries.

Identification Difficult

The dead had been severely burned, one so badly that officials had difficulty determining whether the body was that of a woman or a child

Chester Starr, of Keokuk, one of those critically burned, said the roof of the combination ballroom and drill floor rose into the air, then fell on the dancers.

The armory, which cost $103,000 to build in 1953, was a total loss Miller said it will be rebuilt probably on the same site

Remap Veto Is Upheld by High Court

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Gov. Karl Rolvaag's veto of the legislative reapportionment act was upheld by the Minnesota Supreme Court today on a 4-3 reversal of a lower court ruling.

The decision immediately reopened speculation that the governor would call the legislature into special session for a fresh attempt at laying out districts that meet the "one man, one vote" test of the U.S. Supreme Court.

The veto means there now are no legal districts from which the state's 135 representatives and 67 senators can be elected next year

Associate Justice Robert Sheran wrote the majority decision In essence, he said, the Minnesota constitution assigns the job of reapportionment to the legislative "process," not merely to the group of men who make up the legislature.

New York Papers Again Headed Toward Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Representatives of the New York Daily News and the Newspaper Guild of New York, AFL-CIO, hold new talks today in an effort to reach a settlement before a 6 p.m. strike deadline

If no agreement is reached, it will be the second newspaper strike here in six weeks and could lead again to the shutdown of six of the city's eight major daily newspapers

Fred H. Brown, regional director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, called management and union negotiators to the session today

A statement issued by the News Thursday night said one of the key issues, pensions, "should not be a block to a settlement."

The newspaper also expressed "hope that other differences would be resolved" before the deadline

'Squatters' at State Park May Set Precedent

Conservation Unit Carries on Fight To End Leases

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — For more than a decade a group of cottagers described by state conservation officials as "squatters" have fought off the stubborn efforts of the Conservation Department to evict them from Devil's Lake State Park in Sauk County, the state's biggest and most heavily used.

Unless a current last-ditch attempt is successful, according to the Conservation Department administrators, there may be established a precedent that will trouble the state government in future years in the management of the many new parks and recreational facilities now being acquired and developed.

In the most recent declaration of the Conservation Commission, the cottage site leaseholders whose contracts have expired were told in unqualified terms that the agency will refuse to compromise the issue. Thus appears that the question will be settled in the legislature, where there is pending a bill to extend expired leased for five additional years.

Bill Pending

That the bill will be approved by both houses of the legislature, or signed into law by Gov. Knowles, if it is endorsed by the legislators, appears highly doubtful. Thus it is likely that a pattern of park user privilege that originated in the early days of the state Conservation Department program will soon be ended.

When the first state parks were authorized, private citizens were given the opportunity to lease summer camp and cottage sites within their boundaries. Sometimes such agreements were made to facilitate the acquisition of needed property. All the leases were limited as to duration, however, although some of them were renewed from time to time. Starting more than a decade ago the state agency declined lease renewals and such arrangements have been ended in the other state parks. The leased sites in the Devil's Lake Park, numbering about 80 cottages, are the last hold-outs.

The cottagers were notified 11 years ago that the state would not renew the leases when they expired. All of them expired at the end of last year. The rentals are $75 a year. In a recent "compromise" offer rejected by the commission, counsel for the cottagers offered to raise the annual rental payment to $100.

Clintonville Board Calls for Health, Sex Education Study

Feels After Faculty Review Present Program Fails Students

CLINTONVILLE — A health education program for pupils in the Clintonville school system, including sex education in a broader sense, will be prepared by the Clintonville Board of Education and a committee of teachers.

The decision was reached by the board after a review of the present program by the board and a committee of teachers following last week's board meeting. Members of the teacher group were Burr Tolles, Miss Sue Corey, Mrs. Beverly Wruck, Gordon Olson, Mrs. Rex Michaelis, Roy Laske, Robert McMahon and Werner Wernberg.

The board felt it was failing the students somewhere along the line and called for the complete health program where needed, from kindergarten through high school. The group felt morals of people had changed in the last 10 years and, with the problems facing teachers and parents today, the subject of sex education should be explained. All felt that sex education was a very touchy subject in a community but they also felt a broader concept of morality was needed.

More Than Churches

The Rev. John Sizemore, board member, said he had talked to several ministers who felt the schools could do more than the churches were doing or could do.

School Supt. K. O. Rawson was moderator of the discussion and read an article which presented problems in a Pennsylvania school.

In discussing the present program in Clintonville schools it was noted that students were taught "self development and your relationship to others and to your homes" in sociology courses. Robert McMahon said that human biology and reproduction was picked up in study of reproduction in mammals in health classes. All students get biology and health classes in their curriculum but only a percentage get a unit on family life and marriage, taught in the home economics classes.

Named Delegate

At the board's business meeting Harland Kirchner was appointed delegate to the convention of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards in Milwaukee Jan. 8-10. Mrs. Margaret McCauley was named alternate.

A change order for the new school, authorizing solar bronze tint heat absorbing glass to replace clear glass on the west side of the building, was approved. The cost difference is $217. The board will place risk insurance according to the architect's estimate of the value of the new building. Don Jorgenson and Joe Hoff from the Petroleum Association discussed problems of oil and gas heat in the new building.

Completion of Civil Rights Act forms, necessary for receipt of federal aid funds, was approved. Board members voted a letter of commendation to Robert Chagnon and his assistants, Miss Sigrid Bergman, Miss Sue Corey and Don Doney, for their efforts in presentation of "Paint Your Wagon."

Pick Delegate

It was decided to have an informal meeting to nominate someone from Clintonville as a representative on the Cooperative Education Service Agency board for the counties of Outagamie, Winnebago, Waupaca and a small portion of Shawano County. The board will replace the present county school committees.

Lester Brier Talks to YGOP At Marion

MARION — Lester Brier, Waupaca County register of deeds, spoke to the county Young Republicans Sunday on the purposes and functions of his office.

Brier said many of the problems concerning ID cards are a result of the ease with which many of them can be altered or duplicated. He said Wisconsin is one of the few states which has ID cards. Most use a combination ID card and driver's license, he said.

Assemblyman Gerald Lorge (R.-Bear Creek) told the YGOP he plans to introduce a bill in the Assembly which would combine state ID cards and driver's licenses.

The group decided to sell ballpoint pens with the slogan "Support the GOP—Vote Republican" to help fiance the 1966 elections.

$68,540 Tax Refund Given To New London

Money to be Used To Reduce Tax Bills To Property Owners

NEW LONDON — The city will receive $68,540 as its share of the state's sales tax credit to be used for lowering property taxes.

City treasurer George Groher said the refund is $3,047 more than in 1964.

Waupaca County rate will be lowered by $5.79 to $54.82 per $1,000 assessed valuation and the Outagamie rate of $55.28 will be lowered to $51.30.

Gross Rates

Recently the city council adopted a budget calling for a gross rate of $55.28 in Outagamie County and of $60.61 for residents in Waupaca County.

The adjusted rate means a person in Outagamie County owning a home assessed at $10,000 will pay $6.90 less in taxes than a year ago. Waupaca County residents owning a similar home will pay $3.90 less in taxes.

Of the total refund certified for New London, $57,161 was for the portion in Waupaca County and $11,379 for property in Outagamie County.

The state credit helped lower the tax needs even further than the total budget requiring $756,424 to be raised by local taxes.

Viet Nam War Possible Issue In Campaign

Johnson Recalls GOP Attack on Truman for Korea

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has another good reason — besides the obvious ones of ending the killing and preventing a Communist takeover — for wanting an early victory in Viet Nam. It's political

Although Republicans generally support his Viet Nam policy, they are already warning the war may be an issue in the 1966 congressional elections when all 435 House seats and one-third of the Senate seats are at stake.

At the rate the war is going it won't be over next year.

Johnson, a man of excellent memory, was in Congress during the Korean war and can hardly forget how the Republicans climbed all over President Harry S Truman and made that war an issue in the 1950 and 1952 elections.

In both wars the problem was basically the same: Communists in the northern half of a country attacked the southern half to seize it. Truman, like Johnson, got broad support from both parties in the beginning

Presidential Authority

When North Korea attacked South Korea on June 25, 1950 Truman felt he had to act fast and sent American troops in. He used his presidential authority without first asking congressional approval.

If he had done that, and there had been a long drawn-out debate before he got approval to act, South Korea might have been lost

But both houses gave their approval immediately without making it formal. They extended the draft another year. Subsequently, they backed him up in other ways.

Nevertheless, Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, got on Truman's back, accusing him of usurping Congress' authority. That was a congressional election year.

Other Issues

Within three months after the war began the Republican National Committee made it a campaign issue — there were other issues, like McCarthyism and the Red-hunt at home — in a 56-page document which cited the Red attack on South Korea as a Truman failure.

In the November elections that year the Democrats lost seats in both houses. Korea continued to be an issue in 1951 and was a big one in 1952 when the Republicans captured control of Congress and Dwight D. Eisenhower became president.

Republicans, generally, have backed Johnson on his Viet Nam policy.

He had learned a lesson from Truman's troubles and forestalled any attack such as Taft's on Truman by asking in 1964 for congressional approval beforehand on action he might think necessary in Viet Nam. He got it promptly.

Nixon Warning

But Republicans have pecked away at him. Last week former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said he thought the Vietnamese war would become a major political issue if Johnson failed to take steps to win.

Nixon urged intensified bombing of North Viet Nam and shutting off supplies reach it by sea.

The House Republican leadership has also had things to say about Johnson's conduct of the war

Rep Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, Republican House leader, has repeatedly denounced "irresponsible criticism" of Johnson's Viet Nam policy but has called for heavier bombing of North Viet Nam. He also has said the American people are confused and called on Johnson to be more candid.

Trio in Hunting Clothes Holds Up Marathon Bank

MARATHON (AP) — Three young men in hunting coats held up the Marathon State Bank at 9 15 a m. today and escaped in a snowstorm that was beginning to glaze highways in the area.

A bank spokesman said he could not give any details of the holdup.

"It's a pretty busy place around here right now," he said

However, another source estimated the loot at $13,000 but there was no immediate confirmation.

Winter Spreads Across Rockies

Heavy Snow, Strong Winds Hit, Move To Great Lakes Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry weather spread across areas from the southern Rockies into the northern plains today and headed into the northern Great Lakes region.

Heavy snow, strong northerly winds and cold air hit areas in Montana and the Dakotas. Earlier, snow fell in a narrow belt from Utah and northern Arizona northward into the region and into northern Minnesota to the Lake Superior district. Freezing rain pelted southeastern Minnesota and west central Wisconsin.

More than three inches of snow covered Aberdeen, S.D., and Fargo, N.D. Arctic air dropped temperatures to zero in parts of Montana and to the teens in sections of the Dakotas to the Nebraska border. Heavy snow was indicated in Minnesota, extreme northwestern Iowa, upper Michigan and northern Wisconsin.

Light Rain

Light rain fell during the early morning in northeastern Illinois, extreme southeastern Wisconsin, southern Lake Michigan, southwestern lower Michigan and northwestern Indiana.

After a two-week series of rain storms, skies cleared in much of soggy southern California Thursday. The storms left record rainfall, extensive property damage and nine dead in floodwaters. Except for snow flurries in higher mountain areas, no precipitation was reported in California Thursday.

In contrast to the cold weather, it was mild in Texas Oklahoma, Arkansas and areas in Kansas and southwestern Missouri, with temperatures in the 70s. Record high marks for Nov. 25 were reported in many cities in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Texas and Oklahoma, with the day's high of 92 at McAllen and Presidio Tex. Readings were in the 80s in many areas.

Early morning temperatures ranged from zero at Cut Bank Mont., to 76 at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Study Asked On Hiring Of Minorities

WASHINGTON (AP) — A survey of minority hiring practices among 60,000 of the nation's largest employers has been proposed by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Commission Chairman Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. said Thursday night the proposed employer reports would provide more detailed information about the nation's minority employment patterns than any other government survey in existence

A public hearing on the proposed survey is scheduled for Dec. 16. Approval of the budget bureau also is required.

If approved the first employer report would be due next March 31. Employers from whom reports would be sought are those covered by the Civil Rights Act of 1964 which prohibits discrimination by employers and unions in hiring firing training referrals and promotions.

Commission officials said reporting requirements for labor unions and employment agencies are still being studied.

Pampers Hole in Ground

Stubborn Digger Waits For Gold Price to Rise

GOLDFIELD, Nev. (AP) — Among determined Irishmen, gold-digging Martin Duffy is perhaps the most persistent — pampering, polishing and puttering around his own nonprofit hole in the ground.

Duffy, 67, has been working his old Florence Mine for 26 years — hoping for the day the price of gold goes up, making mining pay again.

Duffy has his mine in top condition, even though it hasn't produced any ore since 1939. He said the Florence produced $9 million in gold in its heyday.

"And there's a Helluva lot more where that came from," he told Los Angeles Times reporter Charles Hillinger. I've been waiting a long time for the price to go up."

Semi-Ghost Town

Duffy's mine is in the semi-ghost town of Goldfield, a mining camp that boomed furiously from 1904 to 1918. Today it is the withering seat of Esmeralda County, 180 miles north of Las Vegas.

"Why do I spend every day up here, keeping the mine in top condition, yet not producing any ore since '39?" asks the former state senator, somewhat rhetorically.

"Hell, it's my life. It's the memories. I knew all the old-timers. I grew up with them, worked beside them. They taught me all I know. Now they're gone.

Town Locked Up

Looking over the town's decaying buildings, Duffy pointed out the old high school he attended, the fully-furnished Goldfield hotel — locked up, unused — and other mines.

"That's the Consolidated over there. Bernard Baruch knew it well. He made millions out of its glory holes.

"That one was the Grizzly, and that over there, the Laguna."

In 1906, Duffy said, more than 30,000 miners, their families and others lived here Now there are slightly more than 100.

"I cut my teeth on gold in this town and never left," Duffy said. He first went to work in the Florence in 1917, leased the mine in 1923 and has been the owner since 1960.

He said he also served as Esmeralda County commissioner for 12 years, then served in the state senate from 1959 to 1963.

Duffy admits it sometimes seems like a waste of time working in shafts as deep as 1,260 feet underground, laying track, placing shoring timbers and working with pick and shovel.

But he adds: "I can't let go. If I do, the mine and equipment will deteriorate, will rapidly go to pot.

"There's always that slim possibility that gold will go up in price. Then imagine what Ruth and I would have."

His wife, Ruth, a former teacher at the high school, commented: "no one can say Duffy's not a determined Irishman."

Stewart and Defense Minister Denis Heath

McNamara and his party arrived at London airport shortly before the West German defense minister, Kai-Uwe Von Hassel, was due to depart for Paris He has been having talks with Denis Healey and Fred Mulley, deputy secretary for defense and minister of defense for the army

Current Issues

American sources said McNamara and his team hoped to discuss some of the current issues in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, including the ways in which both the United States and Britain would contribute to strengthening the alliance cooperation in the field of nuclear policy

The meeting of the alliance's defense ministers in Paris Saturday which is expected to be attended by about 10 of the 15 defense ministers, is the outcome of a recommendation last May by McNamara. He suggested that a select committee of four or five alliance members should be created to discuss nuclear matters.

The original concept has given way to what is now called a special committee with a larger membership. It will study ways of improving consultations and extending allied participation in nuclear planning. It will make an interim report to the meeting of the full North Atlantic Council administrative level in Paris in December.

tions," Wilson said, "we shall continue to probe for any change of attitude which can bring the parties to the conference table."

He did not say whether Britain plans to raise any new points on the Viet Nam problem or make any new proposals on how the conflict could be ended.

Of his talks next month with President Johnson, he said he did not expect they were "going to end this problem until we can get a positive answer from the Hanoi authorities that they are willing to come to the conference table.

During his discussions with the President, Wilson may be able to say how far Britain has progressed in its move to reinforce Johnson's own effort toward achieving closer American-Soviet cooperation on how to stop the spread of nuclear weapons.

The Soviet Union is opposed to any Western move which would give West Germany any share in the West's nuclear deterrent.

Exile Leaders Arrested for Extortion

MIAMI, Fla (AP) — The Cuban exile colony buzzed with the news today that two leaders of a militant revolutionary group had been arrested on federal charges of conspiracy to extort money from other exiles to fight Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro

FBI agents arrested the two officials, Dr. Orlando Bosch Avila, 39, and Marcelino Garcia Jiminez, 57.

Bosch, head of the Insurrectional Revolutionary Recovery Movement, called MIRR, was arrested in Hartford, Conn., late Wednesday and jailed in lieu of $15,000 bond.

Garcia was picked up in Miami and was being held under $5,000 bond in the Dade County jail.

F A Frohbose, special agent in charge of the Miami FBI office, said the pair were indicted Tuesday by a Federal Grand Jury in Miami.

They are charged with participating in attempts to extort $20,000 from Cuban exiles in Clewiston, Fort Lauderdale, Coral Gables and Miami

Frohbose said the indictments charged that the two threatened, via lengthy letters, to harm members of the various families if money was not contributed for the fight against Castro's Communist government in Cuba.

Maximum penalty for conviction is a $5,000 fine and 20 years imprisonment.

U.S. Rejects Appeal for U.N. Test Ban

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States rejected an appeal by 34 non-nuclear nations to suspend all underground tests of nuclear weapons without requiring on-site inspections.

"A moratorium on underground testing is unacceptable to the United States," said U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster, addressing the U.N. General Assembly Main Political Committee.

He called instead for a permanent agreement in the form of a comprehensive test-ban treaty. He said such a treaty must involve "some on-site inspection" to distinguish illegal underground tests from earthquakes.

'Look Homeward' To Begin on Dec. 28

Careers in Paper Industries To be Explained to Collegians

NEENAH — "Operation Look Homeward" will begin Tuesday, Dec. 28, by several Fox Cities paper manufacturers.

The firms are throwing open their doors for vacationing college men and women to better acquaint them with paper industry job opportunities in their home communities.

All students in the area are invited to attend a general "Look Homeward" orientation meeting at the Institute of Paper Chemistry, 1043 E. South River St., Appleton, at 10 a.m., the 28th.

Thereafter, participating mills will set up open house visitations at their facilities during the rest of the week. Any interested student may visit one or several companies. Key executives will visit with the students. No fees or other expenses are involved.

Local firms cooperating in the program include American Can Co., Marathon Paper Products Group, Appleton Coated Paper Co., Bergstrom Paper Co., Fox River Paper Corp., Kimberly-Clark Corp., Riverside Paper Corp., Thilmany Pulp & Paper Co., and the Institute.

A number of other paper companies in Wisconsin also are taking part in "Operation Look Homeward," which is sponsored by the Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service.

Paper executives hope students in all fields, not jut those technically-oriented, will show up.

Our companies offer opportunities in a variety of areas, and we want to acquaint college people with all of them," said a spokesman.

"The paper industry here has much to offer...and we want our home-town graduates to consider carefully before deciding to leave for good.

"We can provide career opportunities to qualified students in their home areas; in addition, we can help our communities grow economically and culturally by retaining more of the capable young people who might otherwise leave in search of careers.

"So all of us...the students, the paper industry, the communities...may benefit greatly," the spokesman said.

Parents of students who might be interested were advised to inform their sons and daughters of the program, the first such attempted in this area.

The invitation also is extended to students at Lawrence University and the University of Wisconsin, Menasha extension, even though not residents of the Fox Cities area. In addition, local students were invited to bring along friends who might be visiting with them over the holidays.

Interested students may register by phoning 725-1535 or contacting the Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service, 104 N. Commercial St., Neenah, by letter or postcard. Parents may register for them, if they wish.

A City Looks to the Future . . . VI

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton has about 270 acres of developed parks. . .but it's not enough.

The population explosion taking place in the Fox Cities region is making potential park and recreation lands scarce.

And land costs are skyrocketing in areas around the city where farm fields are being platted into residential lots.

So, planning consultants have urged city officials to think and act now to obtain park and recreation areas for the future.

A series of recommendations is contained in the capital improvement program proposed for Appleton, covering the next six-year period.

$50,000 a Year

The basic recommendation is that Appleton budget $50,000 a year between now and 1971 for construction of new wading pools, ball fields, shelters and a variety of facilities needed in modern park systems.

The park board's recent request for funds to prepare a master plan for future parks and recreation sites was timely and a St. Louis consulting firm will do the work with the project subsidized with federal grants.

When the planners who prepared the capital improvements program said it was difficult to assess accurately the needs of the park system without benefit of a plan, they couldn't have been more right.

"The provision of adequate park sites for a rapidly growing city such as Appleton is extremely important," said Harland Bartholomew and Associates of St. Louis. Their words were echoed by regional and local planners.

Some Undersized

Also in full agreement are members of the Appleton Park Board who would be the first to admit that while this city has 16 parks and a municipal golf course, some of these facilities are undersized.

For example, more than 10 parks consist of less than 10 acres, and some people who have come to Appleton to make their home over the past decade don't even know where they are located.

Some time ago Mayor Clarence Mitchell said Appleton needed a large park and recreation area which could be used for citywide events. The records, city council heeded his recommendation and purchased more than 95 acres northeast of the city in the Town of Grand Chute.

However, this property will not be touched until a land use plan has been prepared for it.

Rapid Urbanization

Appleton and other cities in the region may also qualify for federal aids under the Open Space Act passed by the Congress. It calls for assistance to be given municipalities in acquiring and developing park and recreation areas.

To emphasize the urgency for the city to look at its park-recreation needs projected over the next 20-25 years, consultants point out the area is urbanizing rapidly.

They have sounded a warning that the luxury of "shopping for park sites" will not last for many more years, and recommend development of a plan so sites can be acquired before they become prohibitively expensive.

Also called to the attention of the council in the six-year plan was the need for a $300,000 public swimming pool on Appleton's west side, and a new lighting system at Goodland Field for $60,000.

The overall philosophy is that young and old alike—all exposed to today's fast living pace—need more park and recreation areas to keep physically fit, entertained and exposed to the outdoors.

Telephone Company to Honor Two Employe

Two employes of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. at Appleton are marking their 25th anniversary with the firm this month. Both received a diamond emblem in recognition for their service.

Fred R. Volkman, 2100 N. Harriman St., joined the company at Appleton in 1940 as a lineman. He was assigned to a dial conversion crew in 1941 and, a year later, enlisted in the Navy Seabees. He returned to the company in 1945 as an installer. He was appointed exchange repairman in 1947.

Volkman is treasurer and a past commander of Harvey Pierre Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2778, active in Boy Scout work and a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America, a nationwide organization of telephone employees with 21 or more years of service.

Volkman and his wife, Gloria, are the parents of three sons, Gary, 19, Craig, 15, and Kent, 13.

Chester C. Soley, an engineer, joined the company at Eau Claire in 1940. After a year as a lineman, he was transferred to Stevens Point as a testman. He went to La Crosse in 1947 and came to Appleton in 1952 as a member of the division engineering staff, a position he held until 1956, when he returned to La Crosse as central office foreman. He came back to Appleton as an engineer in 1963.

Soley is president of the Appleton Quarterback Club, member of local Toastmasters Club, officer of the First Presbyterian Church and a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

Soley and his wife, Jeane, live at 1821 N. Oneida St. They are the parents of four children, Susan, 23, a nurse in Madison; 21-year-old twin daughters, Cindy, a nurse at Evanston, Ill., and Sandy, a nurse intern at La Crosse; and a son, Terry, 17, an Appleton High School senior and All-Fox Valley Conference quarterback who plans to study medicine.

Lawrence Set to Present Handel's Oratorio 'Messiah'

49th Performance to Include Soloists, Chorus, Orchestra

Lawrence University's 49th presentation of George Frederick Handel's oratorio, "Messiah", will be heard at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 12 in Lawrence Memorial Chapel. Sharing in the performance will be the 85-voice Lawrence Choral Society, four vocal soloists and members of the Lawrence Symphony Orchestra.

LaVahn Maesch, dean of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, conducts the ensemble. He has led the oratorio chorus since 1953.

The four soloists include a former Appleton resident and a member of the Lawrence music faculty. They are Rhonda Cunitz, soprano, Evanston, Ill.; Anne Porayko, contralto, Mount Prospect, Ill.; John Paton, tenor, Madison, and John Koopman, bass-baritone, Appleton.

Mrs. Cundy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Cundy, 1515 S. Mason St., Appleton. Koopman is an assistant professor of music at Lawrence.

Harpsichord Accompaniments

Harpsichord accompaniments will be played by Miriam Clapp Duncan, an assistant professor of music. John Hall, conservatory junior, Eagle River, will be at the organ. The symphony performers, who include students and area instrumentalists, are regularly conducted by Kenneth Byler, Lawrence associate professor of music.

Miss Cundy, a 1959 graduate of Appleton High School, earned a Mus. B. degree at Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Ia., majoring in voice. In 1963 she was named winner of the Young Artists Auditions, student division, of the National Association of Teachers of Singing.

She spent the years 1963-65 in Paris studying under a Fulbright grant at the Ecole Normale de la Musique. She received the school's License d'Execution and Licence de Concert, together with the 1965 premiere prix, the highest award offered in performance. She also received the 1965 Prix d'Excellence in international competition for her interpretation of French melody.

Paris Appearances

In 1964-65 Miss Cundy had 16 professional appearances in Paris. She is presently studying voice and opera production at Northwestern University.

Mr. Porayko is well known to midwestern and Canadian audiences as an oratorio soloist and recitalist. She has appeared with the Chicago Symphony Chorus and Orchestra, the Du Page, Twin City and Winnipeg Symphony Orchestras. Her operatic debut came at the Cincinnati Summer Opera Festival in "Susannah", by Carlisle Floyd, and "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni. She holds the Anne du Pont Peyton Award of the National Council of the Metropolitan Opera, The Society of American Musicians Award and the Artists' Advisory Council Award.

Paton, a member of the University of Wisconsin music faculty, is returning for his second "Messiah" engagement. He sang the tenor solos last year, and in April was heard on the Lawrence Chamber Music Series. A former Stuttgart Academy scholar, he makes frequent recital appearances with pianist Hermann Reutter, director of the German school. He has been heard in University Center performances throughout the Fox Valley.

Fifth Appearance

Koopman, a faculty member since 1960, is making his fifth "Messiah" appearance. He earned B.M.us.Ed., and M.Mus.Ed. degrees at Drake University of Iowa, and has studied at Indiana University. He has sung "Messiah" solos with oratorio groups in Des Moines, Escanaba and Oshkosh, and will appear again with the Oshkosh ensemble in December. In 1962 he was soloist in Mozart's "Requiem" at St. Norbert College, West De Pere.

Reserved seats for the Lawrence "Messiah" go on sale at noon Monday at the university box office, 115 N. Park Ave.

Helble Named Representative In CESA Group

Committee to Deal With Petitions for Reorganization

Herbert Helble, retired principal of Appleton High School, was selected to represent Appleton in the Cooperative Education Service Agency 8 School Reorganization Committee, at the board of education meeting Monday.

"We feel that Helble, who has worked in this school system for 30 years and is thoroughly familiar with Appleton, is the best choice we can make," said Dr. Roy Whitney, president.

The committee, which will deal with petitions for reorganization, will consist of three members from Outagamie County, two from Winnebago and two from Waupaca.

Each of the 17 districts represented in the agency will submit one candidate by Dec. 10 and the seven members will be selected at the next Agency 8 meeting.

In other business, Dr. Whitney was selected as the official delegate to the 1966 Wisconsin Association of School Boards Delegate Assembly, Jan. 19 and 20 in Milwaukee.

Nuclear Warheads for NATO Allies

President Johnson has quickly reacted to an article in the New York Times suggesting that our government has rather furtively supplied NATO forces with nuclear weapons, including nuclear warheads mounted in West German fighter-interceptors which might be operated by nationals of other countries. And the President's sensitivity to any suspicions that he might not always know what is going on was certainly showing.

"As has often been stated," the statement issued by Press Secretary Bill Moyers said, "we have made nuclear warheads available to our NATO allies...President Johnson is, and as vice president was, fully aware of specific arrangements made by the Department of Defense with our NATO allies."

This is really a remarkable statement. If the fact of our giving nuclear warheads to other nations "has often been stated," why should the President be irritated?

Actually the news of the availability and the controls on our nuclear weapons in NATO has not been exactly secret but they certainly have not been widely publicized. According to the Times article, a congressional subcommittee investigating the situation in Europe some years ago found that controls were not adequate and that some relied upon doubtful telephone lines. Three years ago the Defense Department tried to get regulations eased so that British and Belgian pilots could fly planes equipped with nuclear warheads on patrol missions, but the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy opposed the change. Apparently since 1960 at least, there have been stringent regulations concerning the control of the warheads so that accidental or unauthorized use is highly unlikely.

There is a serious problem involving nuclear weapons which the President didn't bother discussing. The "quick-reaction alert" is important, especially in case of a nuclear attack upon Europe when lost seconds could mean irreparable destruction and perhaps a lost war. Unless the United States intends to fight every battle around the world—and sometimes this seems to be the intention of the Defense Department—our allies must be equipped to use nuclear weapons even if we retain the ultimate control as we do now through a variety of devices.

It has not been so much a lack of confidence in the ability of other NATO members to handle nuclear power wisely that keeps our finger on the trigger. It is the fear that some member might decide to use the weapons hastily. It is for this very security that France has developed its own nuclear power with the clear knowledge that it isn't enough to repel the Russians but it is enough in all likelihood to draw a nuclear reaction from the Soviet Union which in turn would draw one from the United States.

In our defense measures, both at home and abroad, there are valid reasons for secrecy. We do not want to spell out in detail our defenses for the benefit of the enemy, however extensive may be the Communist espionage techniques. But while our nuclear weapons exist to wreck destruction upon the enemy in case of an all-out war, they are in Europe also as a deterrent to such a war. For this purpose, it must be made known that NATO planes with warheads are not so seriously restrained that they would be ineffective in case of a sneak attack. And why should the people of Europe be kept in the dark about the defenses organized for their benefit? Politically there are charges in Europe that the presence of NATO forces, especially with nuclear weapons, is likely to draw rather than to deter nuclear attack. But there really has not been much agitation to dismantle the military forces or even to send the Americans home.

President Johnson worked so hard at being the peace candidate during the election campaign that he seems to be having trouble recreating his image as a man with a finger on many triggers.

'Those Americans Have No Respect for Machinery'

The Future of Branch Banking

The announcement by the Comptroller of the Currency, James J. Saxon, that he had ordered his field investigators to proceed on 14 applications from federally chartered banks for branches in Wisconsin is undoubtedly intended to put some pressure on the special committee appointed by the Wisconsin Legislature to come up with a branch banking bill which can pass at the April session in Madison.

It was the action of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in permitting two federally chartered savings and loans associations in Milwaukee to establish branches in Kenosha and Brookfield which was influential in persuading the legislature to pass a bill authorizing branching for state savings and loan associations. In addition, of course, the savings and loan bill had the unanimous support of associations in the state, a factor which was not true of the branch banking bill. And while legislation in the savings and loan field requires a mere majority, banking legislation in Wisconsin takes a two-thirds vote.

When the branch banking bill failed to get such a vote in the Senate, a special committee was appointed to report back at the spring session. It consists of three senators, three assemblymen, representatives of each of the three banking associations in the state and a delegate from the League of Municipalities. Senator Gerald Lorge, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, is one of the members, as is Sen. William Draheim.

The committee is expected to meet soon to begin its deliberations. There are a number of provisions of the previous bill which caused differences of opinion, and on these the committee will attempt to arrive at compromises which will make the bill acceptable to more senators.

Comptroller Saxon may be saying, however, that if the Wisconsin legislature does not authorize branching for state banks next spring, he will go ahead and allow national banks in the state to branch. Saxon did so in the state of Utah, and his decision there has been appealed to the courts and is now on the way to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Congress some four decades ago established a national policy subjecting the branching of national banks to the laws of the individual states. But Saxon feels strongly that conditions have changed materially since that time. Whether he has the authority to change that national policy without approval of Congress is the issue now being tested in the courts.

All these factors bear on the state legislature's forthcoming decision on branch banking. The best solution will be reached if the legislative committee comes up with a bill which attracts the support of the state banking industry and the legislature.

Defense of Draft Card Burner

The defense for draft card burner David J. Miller will claim that the federal law forbidding such acts violates the constitution on two grounds, according to The Insider's Newsletter.

The New York Civil Liberties Union will claim that the law seeks to suppress an individual's right to free speech and that its severity (making card-burning a felony) constitutes "cruel and unusual punishment" which, in application, violates due process of law. CLU lawyers hope to cite a long history of high court opinions defending a citizen's free speech right to symbolic expression. They will point out that failure to comply with the Alien Registration Act—a roughly comparable offense—is merely a misdemeanor.

The recent Supreme Court decision on registration of Communists may make the draft card possession requirement, long on the books, unenforceable. If a Communist can refuse to register because it might incriminate him, a man without his draft card might refuse a request to show it on the same grounds.

Johnson Assumes Boom Can Last Forever; History Disproves This

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Whether he believes it or not, President Johnson can be sowing a whirlwind. And if Mr. Johnson thinks business is so good that nothing he does can really hurt it somebody better wake him up. He's dreaming.

Taylor

Our economy today is far more vulnerable than appears on the surface or than White House spokesmen state.

As of this date in 1965 plant and equipment expenditures have risen about twice as fast as national output. The manufacture of durable goods has risen half again as fast as non-durables. Private debt has risen twice as fast as private income.

Individual and government borrowings have increased $187 billion. This is a 76 per cent increase in a single year.

These and other subsurface factors are characteristic of a fully developed business cycle. They certainly need not forecast a depression and nothing like a depression appears on the horizon. But they can forecast a recession and the whole structure of Great Society spending and debt assumes there will be no recession at all.

In fact President Johnson, like President Kennedy before him, has turned his back on the entire history of business cycles and practically guaranteed the boom forever.

TAX-DEFICIT DOLLARS

Alice in Wonderland explained to the Queen that by practicing half an hour every day she could believe six impossible things before breakfast. Well, what we're witnessing is hardly more substantial than that. Yet it's supported by our tax-deficit dollars on a scale that is nearly inconceivable.

The last Congress before President Kennedy's Administration appropriated $84 billion of the peoples' money. President Johnson's "Fabulous 89th Congress" appropriated $110 billion. The increase is $25 billion — a tidy 30 per cent increase in five years. This charge is exceeded only by the appropriations for the first full year of World War II.

What Mr. Johnson does not say about the splendid rate of increase in capital investment is that this can hardly be expected to be maintained. It's running at the rate of between 10 and 15 per cent a year. The long-term rate is 3 or 4 per cent a year.

The orders for machinery and contracts for new industrial construction are marvelous. Nothing in these indicates any downturn. But if the cold facts of history mean anything, by the time capital spending does turn down business will already have started to slacken. Actually, that's when capital expenditures do turn down. They tell the story after the slackening — not before it.

Inventory accumulation is at a high level. It's being reduced in the steel industry where inventories were built up by strike fears, but inventories are not being reduced in numerous other durable goods industries.

The rising profit margins to which Mr. Johnson so often refers are also subject to a shift. Even a moderate slackening would change this picture very fast indeed.

COSTS ARE RISING

Costs are rising against a background of competitive pressures and the costs themselves have little relation to those that Mr. Johnson trots out when he speaks of "guidelines" for labor costs. He clamps the telescope to his blind eye in portraying the wage-cost spiral.

What about the fringe benefits? These are likewise a part of the total costs that must be passed on to consumers, as are taxes. By submerging both those hidden costs the picture the President paints is further distorted.

In the past decade non-farm wage payments for the time worked are up 63 per cent. But fringe benefits are up 122 per cent in this period and now total nearly $57 billion a year. They've been increased to about one-fifth of the labor cost. They make the true aggregate increase 71 per cent, or more than $300 billion a year.

We can hope for the best — but we can't count on it. Neither can President Johnson. The blow from the Administration's stockpile bludgeon touched off a lot of executive-thinking. Red lights now flash at the highest levels of business sentiment. Mr. Johnson might well stop, look and listen if he doesn't want to kill the goose that lays the golden eggs.

They say vibrations and noise caused by more planes using the airport will affect at least a dozen parish churches "making the holding of services impossible."

Bill for Presidential Succession

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Dec. 14, 1865.

Since the assassination of President Lincoln, there has been a general feeling that there should be more officers on whom the Presidency might fall, in the case of a vacancy.

A bill already has been introduced in Congress, which provides that in case of the death, resignation, removal or disability of the President and Vice President of the United States, the President of the Senate pro tempore, and in case there be no President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives for the time being, and in case there is no Speaker of the House, the Chief Justice of the United States, and in case there be no Chief Justice, the Justice of the Supreme Court who has been longest commissioned, shall act as President until the disability be removed or a President elected.

Working under troop leaders Mrs. Bernard Spaay and Mrs. Henry Patch were Scouts Betty Wisman, Shirley Dietzen, Gertrude Vermeen, Margaret DeLeeuw, Delores Ouelette, Jean Limpert, Marion Anderson and Betty Ouellette.

Miss Jo Ann Konrad, Appleton student at Mount Mary College in Milwaukee, directed and staged the play "The Maker of Dreams" by Oliphant Downs as her senior thesis work.

Mrs. Wilmer C. Stach was director of the comedy "The Charm School," being prepared by the St. Paul Players of St. Paul Lutheran Church. Taking part in the cast were Elmer Laedtke, Leone Lemberg, Ethel Hickinbotham, Carol Lisering and Marvis Schmidt.

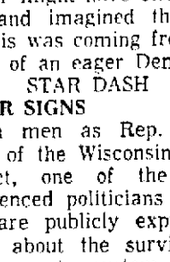
Wisconsin Report

Republicans Being Deliberately Realistic About 1966 Elections

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The deliberate realism of the experienced Republican politicians of the state as a new campaign year approaches is one of the significant aspects of current Wisconsin politics.



Wyngaard

Wisconsin Republicans last year made some gains in what was a disastrous national election for them, as in the recapture of the state executive office. The narrowly achieved triumph gave them a base for the job of reconstruction. Without it the state party could very well have been in the demoralized condition of the national organization today.

But there prevails an apparent determination to avoid exaggerating the importance of those local victories of last year, even in the private talks of the leaders and in their communications to the party faithful in the local organizations. The other day Chairman Ody Fish of the state party committee addressed a Rock County Republican group in such pessimistic terms that a listener might have closed his eyes and imagined that the analysis was coming from the mouth of an eager Democrat.

STAR DASH

OTHER SIGNS

Such men as Rep. Glenn Davis of the Wisconsin Ninth District, one of the most experienced politicians in the state, are publicly expressing worry about the survival of the two-party system in the country.

The unblinking realization of the marginal status of the Republican Party as an institution is perhaps illustrated best in the attitude of Gov. Knowles, the titular leader of the Wisconsin faithful. Knowles for 10 months has been maintaining a driving pace that would do credit to a young lawyer seeking his first nomination for district attorney. Doubtless he enjoys the work, in spite of its grueling pace. But there is obviously also a conviction moving him—a conviction about the need to broaden the base of party support and to restore its appeal to the young and the old and many other groups that have been courted so anxiously by the Democrats.

If the party intends to rely entirely upon the old line regulars, the Knowles campaign schedule appears to be saying, it may very well lose here with finality.

There can be very little doubt that the Wisconsin GOP last fall was shackled by the weight of the Goldwater candidacy, and that the Democratic Party and its local and state ticket were aided enormously by the sweep for the national Democratic administration. Next year the Wisconsin parties will stand on their own, without direct association with the national tickets.

Yet most Democrats are convinced that some of the evident popularity of the national ticket will rub off on them. Republicans are worried that the guess may be right. One leading Republican of vast experience and a life-long habit of examining situations objectively privately informs this reporter that he sees no evidence that the Johnson Administration's popularity is sagging.

ISSUES:

There is a belief among some Republicans that the acceleration of the Viet Nam war, with its inevitable costs, or a runaway inflation, will hurt the party in power in the national government. But these are not the elements upon which politicians can plan campaigns. They are only possibilities. The politician wants solid and visible issues.

If the Wisconsin elections next year can be associated exclusively or primarily with state and local issues, as the thoughtful Republicans see it, they will have a fair chance of victory if they employ their utmost resources and strength. For the Republicans are confident that their record is good, in terms of the Democratic challenge. Such issues as the Democrats are testing appear to be less than grave. Among these could be listed the staff bungle in the Knowles office that brought an obscure Bircher to a minor part-time state committee seat, the expenditure budget for the remodeling of the executive office, and the relationship of the state administration to a youthful advertising partnership in Milwaukee.

Strictly Personal

Buckley's Campaign Was Most Refreshing

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Even though I disagree with the political position of William F. Buckley, who ran this month as the Conservative Party candidate for mayor of New York, I enjoyed his campaign immensely and think we should encourage more like it.

Harris

What was refreshing about the Buckley campaign was that he knew he couldn't win, and therefore felt free to dump overboard all the dull and dreary political cliches of electioneering.

A good deal of what he said was simply irresponsible; but it's what he didn't have to say that provided his campaign with zest and buoyancy. And I wonder how many of the 300,000 who voted for him did so because they favored his political position, and how many because his oratory was free of the usual political cant.

Every campaign needs a gadfly like Buckley, to puncture the pretensions of the laugh at their platitudes, to deflate their pious and empty oratory, to point out the intellectual sterility of their positions. Because, as we know, 90 per cent of what the conventional candidates say during a campaign is hot air and little more.

Both Beame and Lindsay, the chief rival candidates, tried to please almost everybody—all ethnic groups, all economic classes, all geographica areas. They may not have kissed babies, but they kissed everybody else. They cast their political nets as widely as possible.

Buckley, on the other hand, was more interested in pinpointing his enemies than in cultivating friends. Some of his criticism was sharp and relevant; some was merely smart-alecky. But all of it was willfully stated, with style and verve that have all but disappeared from the political scene.

It doesn't matter too much whether this kind of iconoclastic campaign is waged by a right-winger, a left-winger, or a no-winger. Extremism may be a poor thing to have in the saddle, but it can be healthful and stimulating for the body politic, if it exposes the mental poverty and platitudes of the more conventional candidates.

Of course, Buckley is not just another well-heeled Know Nothing of the right. He is educated and moral enough to disavow the Birchers, the haters, the kooks, and the neanderthals who are trying to take over conservatism in this country, just as the Communists tryed to take over liberalism (and failed) two decades ago.

What we need are more intelligence and candor on both wings, as well as in the center. Too bad it takes a sure loser to provide these.

English Tax Laws Jam Up Weddings

CRAWLEY, England (AP) — Clergy at Crawley New Town in Sussex want the tax laws changed to put an end to their peak period wedding worries. They have asked their member of parliament, Peter Hordern, to seek all-the-year-round tax concessions for young couples marrying instead of restricting them so that couples queue to get married in the spring and fall.

"The twice-a-year rush makes things very hard," said the Rev. Charles Williams, a local Anglican priest. "Our main worry is that we cannot devote as much time as we would like in preparing people for marriage."

Lynda Bird Off to Mexican Film Festival, Vacation

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, the President's older daughter, began a three-day weekend vacation today in this tropical resort where a film festival is in full swing.

A Mexican Airlines spokesman reported her arrival in Acapulco Thursday night. The 21-year-old University of Texas senior flew from Texas in a twin-engine private Beechcraft with family friends.

It was reported that actor George Hamilton would be Lynda Bird's escort.

White House sources, confirming her plans to spend three days in Acapulco, said they knew nothing about the report that Hamilton would be her escort and pointed out that he wasn't at the LBJ ranch Thursday and wasn't aboard her plane.

Hamilton was Lynda Bird's escort at the recent White House dinner-dance for Princess Margaret of Britain and her husband, Lord Snowdon. Hamilton was acting as the escort of the President's daughter and not as her date, it was emphasized.

Lynda Bird arrived in this Pacific Coast city amid the 8th World Review of Film Festivals.

She was accompanied by secret service agents and Mr. and Mrs. Earle Deathe of Austin, Tex., old friends of the Johnson family. Deathe is employed by the Johnson family's radio and television interests.

Her party was met at the airport by unidentified persons and immediately left by car with them for the residential section, the Mexican Airlines spokesman said.

If the market goes down and the psychology is discouraging they sometimes refuse to buy excellent bargains, until a surge of hope sends them up again.

Live Within Your Income

Young Couple in Debt Must Do Something About It Now

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

After seven months of marriage, we are in debt.

My husband handles the money, and I do not know when, where or how the money is spent. All I know is that our rent is $130 a month, we pay $13 a month for utilities, $7 a month for the telephone and $83 a month for car payments.

My husband earns approximately $9,000 a year.

Would you work out a budget for us?

E.F., Riverdale, N.Y.

Dear E.F.:

Unless you and your husband are willing to get together on money right now, you're headed straight for the rocks. Don't let it happen. There will be many things in your life you can't control. But at this point, with an income of $9,000 a year, your marriage should be off to a pretty good financial start. Unless you have some substantial debts which you don't mention in your letter, you can control your living expenses.

Keep in mind that a $9,000 annual income is not the income you actually have to live on. After taxes, your husband's take-home pay may be nearer $7500. Set your budget up on his take-home pay. Pin him down as to exactly how much money you have to deal with.

Of course, you shouldn't have to pin him down. He should insist that you know what his income is. A loving wife's conscience is one of the finest buffers a man can have to keep him from running into debt.

After you sell him on that point—and do your darndest—set your budget up on some practical rules of sound money management:

Keep your basic expenses—food, clothing, and rent—under 58 per cent of your take-home income. Figure it by the week or month to start with, as it's easier than trying to figure by the year. One rule of thumb where housing is concerned is to make sure it doesn't exceed one week's take home pay.

A young couple should be able to eat quite well on $20 a week, assuming you're a fair cook and shopper and eat at home most of the time.

Allow from 5 to 15 per cent of the take-home income for savings. Since you've been married for only seven months, you both probably have adequate wardrobes, so for the next year you could allow 8 per cent of your income for clothing. That's the logical minimum, but later on, when the trousseau has become threadbare, the cost of clothing will go up to 10 or 15 per cent of your takehome pay.

It will probably take about $40 a month to operate your car, in addition to the monthly payments for the car itself. You may have to consider this part of your recreation expenses, in order to keep your savings intact.

Other items you'll have to put down on paper while you're working out your budget are: utilities; medical costs; gifts, contributions (and don't think these don't mount up during the year); a vacation fund; personal allowances your husband's lunches, haircuts, newspapers, incidentals—and maybe your hair-do and pin curlers.

To sum it up: if you have that sickening feeling that you're going into debt, now's the time to take your medicine.

Supervisor of Pension Accounts to Draw Own

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The man who has supervised the pension accounts of thousands of state and local government employes since the creation of the Wisconsin Retirement Fund 20 years ago will start receiving his own annuity from the fund next month.

Frederick N. MacMillin, widely known as the founding manager of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities more than three decades ago, has retired effective Dec. 17 as the director of the state-local government retirement fund which now numbers nearly 60,000 active and retired members.

The board of directors of the fund is expected soon to announce the appointment of Clyde Sullivan, a professional actuary, to succeed him. Sullivan, during the last two years, has worked as chief of staff of the state retirement research council which recently put through the legislature a bill substantially liberalizing annuities for state and local government officials and employees.

Headed Municipal League

MacMillin is 66, and was the executive head of the League for 25 years.

During the latter years of his League service he worked part-time as the manager of the newly established state-local employe pension system. Ten years ago he became full-time director of the retirement program.

The fund continues to grow in numbers and resources, as the size of Wisconsin governmental services expands, and as new municipalities enroll their employes for their benefits. Inclusion is optional for towns, cities and vilages, but virtualy all of the larger municipalities now are covered. All counties are members by force of state law, under a legislative decision several years ago which was unsuccessfully fought in the state Supreme Court.

Tooth Decay Contagious Disease, Not Hereditary

BY DOUG BAILEY

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Scientists have discovered that tooth decay is a highly contagious disease, not a defect you inherit from your parents, says a University of Miami researcher.

That means if you have a good, sound set of choppers but marry somebody with a mouth full of cavities, you are imperiling your ivory smile.

"This is not going to stop kissing," said the researcher, Dr. Doran D. Zinner, in a bit of understatement.

"But it does mean we have made a good step forward in stopping tooth decay," he said.

"For many years we thought of tooth decay as hereditary," Zinner said in an interview. "But now we know that if an individual does not have a certain type of bacteria in his mouth, he will not get caries."

You can eat all the candy, cake and soda pop you want if you don't have these bacteria, Zinner said, and your teeth won't decay.

Of course, if you do have the bacteria, every time you eat something with sugar in it, you are giving the bacteria food, allowing them to destroy your teeth.

The bacteria are transmitted by direct contact, said Zinner, a dentist-microbiologist who has been studying tooth decay with four colleagues for the past five years under a Public Health Service grant.

He said the contagious nature of the bacteria was discovered first in experiments with rats and hamsters, whose teeth have physical and chemical properties similar to human teeth. The findings were confirmed in experiments with human teeth, he said.

Four main types of bacteria have been found. Each destroys teeth at different speeds.

"One type will produce rampant decay" in lab animals Zinner said, "in say, 35 to 40 days. A similar type will take twice as long. A third may take 100 days or more, and so on."

About 98 per cent of the population of the world has some form of tooth decay, Zinner said, "but the biggest majority have the slow acting type."

Contagious Disease

Still, you might catch a faster-moving brand from your girl-friend, wife or even a kissin' cousin, he said.

The best protection against tooth decay discovered so far is fluorides, Zinner said.

Not only do fluorides kill the bacteria but they also become part of the crystal surface of the teeth and act as a wall against new bacteria, he said.

"For several years we have known that fluorides prevented tooth decay," he said, "but it is only recently that we have begun finding out why."

Teeth are most susceptible to the bacteria in childhood when baby teeth fall out, he said. This is the time to take children to dentists who can give them fluoride, Zinner said.

Watch Etiquette

A watch may be worn anytime, any place except for the "three nevers," advises a fashion coordinator. Never wear a watch over long gloves, to anchor long sleeves in place or with a wedding gown.

Caulking Available For Baths

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: Apparently the shower stall leaks where the baseboard strip meets the ceramic floor. How can I make this waterproof?

A: Thoroughly scrub around this joint, to get rid of all traces of soap filf. Give it plenty of time to dry; you can joint, the type of caulking made lightly as you can, all along the joint, the type of caulking made especially for sealing leaks around bathtubs. These products are available at any hardware store. Personally, I think those leakproof shower units—the whole thing molded out of a single piece of colorful fiberglass — offer the greatest answer. No seams, no leaks, all corners and joints rounded for easy cleaning.

Q: One of the steps to the upstairs has loosened enough so that you can feel it sink a little when stepped on. This produces quite a squeak, especially late at night when it's quiet. How can I fix it? Will I have to remove the carpet first?

A: No need to disturb the carpeting at all. All that's needed is to drive a few long, thin, finishing nails down through the tread, to anchor it where it fits over the riser. Work the point of the nail carefully through the carpet, then use a nailset to drive the head down into the tread.

NOW is the time to pick out your Carpet for Christmas Giving!

Grooming for Teens

Not every girl is born a breathtaking beauty, but every teen can become an attractive lovely. High grooming standards make it so.

Always neat and clean, from the top of her head to the tip of her toes, a girl looks nice to know. What's more, she grows nicer to look at, day by day. For the grooming rites, in themselves, act like beauty treatments on the skin, hair and hands.

If that's for you, why not do as the teen fashion models do and keep a grooming calendar? Simply rule off a large sheet of paper into seven columns and head each with the day of the week; draw a line across center of columns, marking one side A.M., the other P.M.

Regular Duties

Now decide and jot down when you will perform each of the following grooming duties:

DAILY. Bath or shower; deodorant application; hair brushing; face washings (three to four); application of skin-care product, hand care — scrubbing and lotioning.

WEEKLY. Manicure and pedicure, shampoo and sets (one or more); defuzzing, if required; wardrobe care — washing, pressing, mending, shoe care.

Once made, let nothing short of disaster cause you to miss a date. Between times be sure to keep your hair, make-up and nails in tidy shape. A girl who fails to keep her grooming dates seldom has any other kind to keep.

Fifty ways to ideal skin and natural make-up for young adults — ages 13 to 19 — are detailed in my booklet, Model Tips for Teens. Advice covers corrective skin care; how to use make-up to accent good points and play down problems; fashion model make-up tricks. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Long, Lean Look in California Fashions

By DORIS KLEIN

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Stand like a model, flat-bosomed chest caved in, narrow hips thrust forward.

Tomboy Suit

Designers Stanley Nelson and Bill Travila both made much use of cotton in their spring suits.

"Cotton is being woven so imaginately," said Travila, "that I'm thinking seriously of using it in my fall and winter line."

Nelson used other fabrics, too — baby blue cut velvet in a body-skimming all-weather coat, and soft pastel tweeds in front-fitted travel coats.

Travila also employed a new French synthetic fabric, Rustica, which resembles Fibrane, in printed suits and costumes, the dresses with little rounded sleeves.

Knit designer Lee Herman tended to a tailored or little girl feeling in hip-length knit jackets topping little silk or double knit dresses, many in empire lines.

Mrs. Lester Schulz Heads Panhellenic

Mrs. Lester Schulz, Pi Beta Phi, was elected president of the Fox River Valley Panhellenic Council Monday evening at the Lawrence University Union. Mrs. Miles Benson, Alpha Delta Pi, was elected secretary, and Mrs. Lauren Hillquist, Delta Gamma, treasurer.

Members announced plans for the annual spring tea for senior girls from Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna, St. Mary, Xavier and Fox Valley Lutheran High schools planning to attend college next fall. Mothers of the girls will also be invited.

Mrs Benson will be program chairman for the tea. Mrs. Miles Mercer, Delta Gamma, food; Mrs. Brian Thompson and Miss Shirley Hawkins, Kappa Alpha Theta, arrangements; Mrs. Bruce Feldt, Neenah, Kappa Delta, name tags, and Mrs. Richard Uehling, Pi Beta Phi, reservations.

Calumet Festival Scheduled Monday

Calumet County Homemakers have chosen a French flavor for their annual Christmas Festival to be held at 7 p.m. Monday in the Brillion High School gym.

Exhibits will feature Christmas ideas, wrappings, decorations, trimmings and foods. A display of decorative stitches will also begin at 7 p.m. A formal program at 8:30 p.m. will be given by the Chilton High School French Club, under the direction of instructor Mrs Karl Eichhorst. Members will present "The Christmas Story", singing carols in French and English.

The public has been invited to attend the program. Cookies and coffee will be served from 7 p.m. to 9:45 p.m.

Mrs. Ezra Keuer, Brillion, will act as mistress of ceremonies. Other committee members are Mrs. Everett Schwalbe, Mrs. LeRoy Bastian and Mrs. Barney Mullins, all of Brillion, and Mrs. Arthur Rusch Jr., Chilton.

Pert Coroner Coed Takes Official Oath

By BOB DUBILL

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A shapely blonde coed starts a three-year term as coroner today with visions of running for Congress in the future.

Beamed blue-eyed Janet M Bond prior to being sworn in as Mercer County Coroner. "Already I've met a lot of people I wouldn't have otherwise."

Classmates introduce her to their parents as "my friend, the coroner."

On her first night home for the Thanksgiving holidays she was invited to address a local Boy Scout troop.

She's received a bundle of mail from around the country, including congratulatory letters from Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss and U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

Janet became something of a celebrity three weeks ago by polting 56 votes for a landslide victory over 54 other write-in candidates

Letter Sent Out

She clinched the election with a mimeographed letter campaign from Mount Holyoke College in Massachusetts urging the people back home in Princeton to add interest to their election day by casting a write-in ballot for her.

One of her major preoccupations since the election has been trying to figure out just what the coroner's job entails.

A 135-year-old state law requires her to bury shipwrecked people who wash up on the shore, sell their clothes at public auction and watch for more ships

Her father, a physicist at RCA, has been assisting in the research.

"He's been having more fun than anybody in the world reading all the law books and uncovering all kinds of minute trivia," she said.

Specific Amount

"If the shipwrecked victim is found nude, I have to provide the grave clothes. But I'm not allowed to spend more than one dollar for them."

For the most part, she confided, coroners in New Jersey don't do anything; particularly in Mercer County where the only shipwreck could be on the shore of the Delaware River where ships seldom pass.

For some time Mercer County's governing officials have tried to persuade the legislature to erase the coroner's office from the books on grounds that it is outdated and the county medical examiner has taken over the only essential duties. But the title remains — and enough voters are aware of the position to keep it alive.

Although the position pays no salary, has no real duties and no patronage, Janet, a 21-year-old political science major, doesn't discount its political value.

"I think deep down every political science student would like to be in Congress some day," she said. "One way to get there is by winning elections."

A bit of wooly Madras is fashioned into a smart blazer jacket, cutaway at the hips and closed with a single button. Worn over a solid color wool slipover with matching over-the-knee socks in a diamond pattern. The plaid skirt is a narrow-A-line fashion. At right a sleeved and collared slipover is pulled over a softly tweeded plaid lacey skirt. Over-the-knee socks are keyed to the sweater hue.

Stay Out of Notrump if Doubtful

Most bridge players have one simple answer to all bidding problems: "When you don't know what to bid, take a shot at notrump." Actually, the right time to bid notrump is when you know exactly what you are doing.

Opening lead — ♣ 9

Today's hand was played in Paris, but it might have been bid and played just the same way in New York or Capetown. South bid two notrump because he didn't know what to do — and this led to a severe penalty.

South should have passed over two clubs. if North could take no further action South would not miss a game by passing. At most, South might have bid two spades, but two notrump was a bad overbid.

North had the right idea when he rebid the spades, but he should have bid four hearts over three notrump. Four hearts might be a magnificent contract if South had four hearts to the ace or jack, and West's double indicated that three notrump was a dangerous contract.

Pay Price

When North and South stayed in three notrump they paid a stiff price for their optimism. West opened the nine of clubs, and East won and shifted to the queen of diamonds.

Declarer discarded two hearts from dummy on the diamonds, hoping that the spades would break. The defenders then took the ace of hearts, and gave dummy the king of hearts. West got in with the jack of spades to take two more heart tricks, collecting a penalty of 900 points.

Strangely enough, North would not have been doubled at four spades if South had raised to two spades at his first turn. North would have gone down two or three tricks, but this would not have been expensive at 50 points per trick.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You bold: S J 10 5 4; H A J 6 2; D A 7 6 2; C 9. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades. This shows good trump support with 13 to 16 points, counting distribution as well as high cards.

Your Problems

Secretary From the Country Doesn't 'Buy' Charity Tale

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a blue-eyed brunet raised on a farm near Alpena, Michigan. I came to Detroit, got a job as a secretary and fell in love with a prominent executive in the automobile industry. Greg was evasive about where he lived but I never pushed it. Yesterday he telephoned to say he had the flu and couldn't keep our date. I decided to surprise him with a honey and lemon syrup my grandmother used to make. I got his address from the office manager.

Greg was sick all right and when he opened the door and saw me he got a whole lot sicker. The first thing I noticed was a satin housecoat and some ostrich feather bedroom slippers. He said, "I know what you're thinking and you're wrong. That stuff belongs to a sweet kid from Sheboygan who is out of work and needed a place to stay. She'll be out of here tomorrow."

I called him a liar and left.

When I got home the phone was ringing. He begged me to believe him. Would you?—Egg On My Face

Dear Egg: Would I believe your big-hearted Romeo is playing housemother to a busted kid from Sheboygan? No. I would not. And neither should you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a dentist who is 86 years old and have been practicing since

Landers

1903. Your column on how some dentists handled emergencies was fascinating.

I have had many emergency calls and I've never turned away a patient in pain, even though another patient had to wait.

My most memorable experience occurred many years ago. It was 1 a.m on a bitter cold night. A patient called, and he was in agony and asked me to meet him at my office and give him some relief.

I got out of bed, dressed in the warmest clothing I could find and headed for the office. He was waiting at the door After I gave him an injection of local anesthetic he smiled broadly and said, "Thanks a million, Doc, I've had this darned toothache for three weeks and it feels better now than it has in all that time."

I didn't say what I was thinking, but it wasn't easy to keep quiet.

I have read your column regularly and I think you give some really level-headed advice. Dr. H.C.F.

Dear Doctor: Thank you for a delightful letter. And how blessed is your community to have had you as a practicing dentist for 62 years!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am surprised at you — telling that woman to consider court action just because her husband hit her over the head with a suitcase. After all, he was showing her that he cared.

This man probably was a little upset over something and he didn't really want to leave. He was only pretending that he wanted to leave — to test his wife's love.

I know how it is with my husband Every once in a while he loses his temper and socks me. But I accept it as a compliment. If he didn't love me he wouldn't get so mad. Even though he has his little faults I would follow him to the end of the earth because I love him. Well?—B's Wife

Dear Wife: No. Sick.

SEAMS TO ME By Patricia Scott

Recover Lampshade

If you have a wire frame lampshade that looks rather shoddy, don't throw it away. Recover it. The job is not at all complicated, and the price is right. You can trim the shade to your taste and decor, and save the extra charge that is always added for custom decoration.

I suggest that you experiment with one first, using inexpensive fabric and trim, until you have all the kinks worked out of the project. Then, you can redo your good shades with a steady hand, using silk shantung, raw linen, etc. and fine trimmings.

1. Cut fabric away from the frame carefully. Make a paper pattern from these old pieces.

2. Place pattern on fabric on the bias. Allow one inch extra seam allowance on all sides.

3. Wrap wire frame with ½ inch wide cotton winding tape. Wrap tape tightly around wire, as shown in top illustration.

4. Fold fabric in half, wrong side out. Fabric should be absolutely even all around. Machine-stitch the two short sides together (center illustration). Trim seam. Turn right side out.

5. Ease cover over frame almost to the bottom (bottom illustration).

6. To finish top raw edge, turn seam allowance smoothly over top edge of frame. On inside of frame, sew fabric to tape, using small overcast stitches. Be very sure that the stitches do not show on the right side.

7. Finish pulling cover down gently, but carefully pulling it taut so that it fits over the frame without wrinkles.

8. To avoid wrinkles completely, as you are easing cover down over the frame, wipe shade in downward motion with a damp cloth.

9. When it completely covers the frame without any wrinkles, finish off the bottom edge as you did the top.

Trim: Use briad or embroidered bands on top and bottom edges for a finished look. Or tack gold braid in a swag effect, as illustrated, and add little gold tassels.

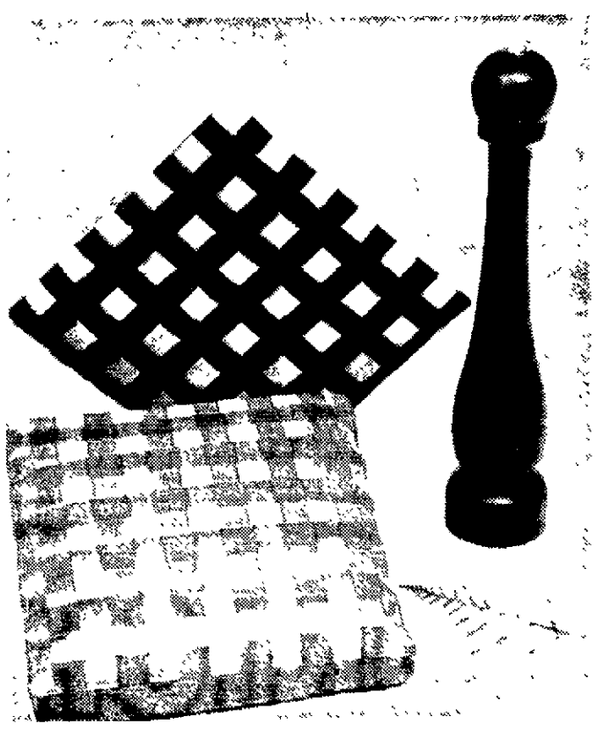
Clerk Reminds Village Residents of Deadline Of Special Assessments

LITTLE CHUTE—All special assessments and delinquent water bills must be paid prior to Dec 1 or they will be added to the tax roll and interest charges assessed, according to Gerald Locy, village clerk.

To avoid additional costs, the clerk urges village residents to check to ascertain whether assessment has been made against their property for curb and gutter, blacktop, weed cutting or other services.

Black Felt Stitched in white with a white felt la bel is a perfect pillow cover in the room of a recor buff. The name may be written in yarn or in textil paint.



Felt, Ribbon, Scissors, ruler and a pencil will create pillows that have an 'op' art look.

Personality Pillows Popular Decoration

BY REBA AND BONNIE CHURCHILL

Peek into any teen-ager's room, and you'll find certain basic decorations There are stuffed animals, school pennants, and toss pillows.

The latter range from comfy cushions to personality pieces, such as a facsimile record made from black felt This fun sample features white stitching (representing phonograph grooves) and a disk-like label, complete to singer's name The identification can be spelled out in yarn or written in textile paint

Sturdy fabrics, like cotton, denim or corduroy, also adapt to these pop patterns The material is bright colored, inexpensive, and easy to trim Teeners have a field day snipping out wedge watermelon or way-out shapes, and then decorating them with plush poodles, plastic seeds, or embroidered flowers. Many of these cutouts are available in applique form and boost adhesive backings that can be swiftly pressed on.

Lattice Work

Another pattern that requires no sewing is made with ribbon. Using a ruler and pencil, mark off one-inch squares by making a series of dots on the fabric. Working with a sharp knife, slice from the first to the second dot. Now omit the space between the second and third dots, continuing in an alternating pattern. Position the material vertically and lace ribbon through the openings. Multi-colored streamers can be used and a variety of "woven" designs originated. In a few minutes you may have your own form of "op art."

A minimum of sewing is necessary to assemble the pillow. On the reverse side, stitch front, back and insert together, leaving a five-inch opening for stuffing. Turn material right-side-out, and fill with shredded foam rubber or cotton batting, then sew up the opening

Now the pillows are ready for use on sofa or chairs, and you're sitting pretty!

Research Ratings Show Reasons for ABC Panic

Network Has Only 2 Programs in Top 20, These Located Far Down on List

BY JINGO

Last week Jingo published a roundup of the changes the television networks are executing. The most notable aspect of the survey was the wide shake-up ABC has planned.

The reason for ABC's panic became frightfully clear with the publication of the latest American Research Bureau ratings this week. Alas, poor ABC, it only had two representatives in the top 20, and those were painfully located in 16th and 17th spots. It is the opinion of the network that placement of shows is the main determinant of success or failure and several ARB rankings backed up this theory.

Most notable was the third place showing of NBC's "Saturday Night at the Movies." Why should this movie rate near the top while the Sunday (ABC), Tuesday (NBC) and Thursday (CBS) films were nowhere in sight? That's easy. The competition is slight on Saturday and rough on the other three nights.

Jingo

Interesting Note

Also noted with interest was the appearance of CBS' "What's My Line?" in the fifth spot. The panel show had been very low in the ratings all season, but evidently the death of regular Dorothy Kilgallen created interest in the show and viewers wanted to see how the eulogies would be handled. Incidentally, after an opening comment by moderator John Daly, the show dragged on into an understandably unhappy series of guessing games in which the panel fared poorly.

NBC headed the top 20 with 10 shows, including leader "Bonanza," followed by CBS with eight and ABC's two. The only series the latter network could boast of were "Lawrence Welk" (16) and "Bewitched" (17).

New shows in the top 20 dropped to a measly pair: NBC's "Get Smart" (tied for 7th) and "Laredo" (15).

Top 20 Shows

The complete top 20: 1) "Bonanza" (NBC); 2) "Beverly Hillbillies" (CBS); 3) "Saturday Night at the Movies" (NBC); 4) "Candid Camera" (CBS); 5) "What's My Line?" (CBS); 6) "Danny Thomas Special" (NBC); 7) tie, "Gomer Pyle" (CBS) and "Get Smart (NBC); 9) "Walt Disney" (NBC); 10) "Daniel Boone" (NBC); 11) "Ed Sullivan" (CBS); 12) "The Virginian" (NBC); 13) "Branded" (NBC); 14) "Dr. Kildare I" (NBC); 15) "Laredo" (NBC); 16) "Lawrence Welk" (ABC); 17) "Bewitched" (ABC); 18) tie, "Red Skelton" (CBS) and "My Three Sons" CBS), and 20) "Jackie Gleason" (CBS).

As if television isn't bad enough, when the rare good show comes along, it is sometimes pre-empted. Most recent examples: an NBC special on "The Spanish Armada" was dumped by Channel 5, Green Bay, in favor of a kid's show on a recent Sunday, and CBS' "Town Meeting of th World" was replaced by a special on Country and Western music on a recent Tuesday night. Obviously, Channel 5 felt the competition of the Packer game was too much for the "Armada" special, but why the "Town Meeting" didn't appear is anyone's guess.

An open letter to WBAY-TV, Channel 2, Green Bay:

Gentlemen: This Sunday at 10 a.m., "Camera Three" on CBS will feature Mary Ellen Bute's discusston of her film adaptation of James Joyce's novel, "Finnegans Wake." In its place, your channel has chosen to show us a movie, "Red Snow," which revolves around mysterious lights seen coming from an island inhabited by Eskimos. Must culture continue to be sacrificed for this second-rate banality? Why can't we see "Camera Three?"

Sincerely,
Jingo

Incredible James Bond Is Examined

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channels 4-5-7) — The Incredible World of James Bond is a gigantic plug for the incredibly popular an Fleming secret agent, 007. Producer David Wolper takes advantage of all the Bond films (from "Dr. No." to the still unreleased, "Thunderball") for a hefty and eyefilling profile of the fictional hero. He has also cornered actor Sean Connery, with a quartet of "Thunderball' beauties, for a sly interview. His luck, however, in getting Connery to narrate the special wasn't as good. At the last minute, Alexander Scourby was given the assignment. There's also a film interview with the late author, Fleming, who made it all possible. (Color)

7:30-8 (Channels 2-7-12) — Well, it's about time. Those cagey POWs on Hogan's Heroes finally have gone too far in taking advantage of the weiner schnitzel good nature of their all-nonsense guard Schultz (John Banner). Klink (Werner Klemperer) explodes and brings in tough-heeled Norman Alden as their new watchdog. (Color)

7:30-8:30 (Channels 4-5) — Convoy sinks into another sentimental sea that is more painful than dramatic with "No More Souvenirs." In the first moments, a young seaman is killed. The Commander, John Gavin, has the awful task of telling his high-strung widowed mom whose husband has been killed in the war, too.

8-8:30 (Channels 11-9) — Honey West is in another sour fix. Her assignment is to deliver a truckload of gowns for a San Francisco fashion show but before she can say, "chiffon," the rags are hi-jacked.

8:30-9 (Channels 11-9 — Stay tuned for The Farmer's Daughter and you'll see still another unfunny twist on the garment game. Inger Stevens, now a busy little housewife and club woman, must entice designer Vito Scotti into showing his clothes for "the beautiful people" before her "herd of elephant-shaped" pals. (Color)

8:30-9 (Channels 4-5-7) — Mister Roberts continues to wallow in the high seas in the second part of its three parter. "Which Way Did the War Go?" has the boys picking up George Takei, one of those tight-eyed, tight-lipped Japanese who knows his side is going to win the war. (Color)

9-10 (Channel 2) — Slattery's People presents its final episode, "Color Him Red," and unfortunately its not a memorable swan song. Richard Crenna has that old problem of deciding what to do with an old friend (and college professor) who has been accused of being a Communist.

9-10 (Channels 11-9) — The Jimmy Dean Show moves into Miami Beach's big civic auditorium for another "have your cake and eat it, too" show. Guests are Charley Weaver, Gale Garnett, Little Jimmy Dickens, George Jones and the Bordermen, a new trio of folk singer-musicians.

Burlesque Coming Back To Boston

By JAMES CALOGERO

BOSTON (AP) — The undress industry is coming back to Boston after a long slack season.

That's burlesque son, which in father's day played to 20,000 persons weekly in Boston.

It went underground nearly four years ago when the censor put a "banned in Boston" label on it.

The other will open next Tuesday for 10 days at the Shubert Theater, normally the home of legitimate drama.

Located Uptown

The theaters are a mile uptown from the demolished Scollay Square honky tonks, tattoo parlors and the old Howard, which was to burlesque what New York's Palace Theater was to vaudeville.

Oldtimers say it'll be like the old days with Ann Corio headlining one show and Blaze Starr and Hope Diamond the other.

City censor Richard J. Sinnott, commenting on the return — at least temporarily — of burlesque, says, "There'll be no nudity, no vulgarity, no bumps and grinds."

Elderly Persons May Dislike Taking Baths

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have an aged parent living with me who scratches her back until it bleeds. She will not see a doctor. I have tried to stress cleanliness and encourage her to bathe oftener, but she won't do so even once a week. She only washes her hair on the average of every four months. Her bedroom has an odor. What can be done? — Mrs. M.F.T.

In the elderly, skin oils decrease. This can provoke itching. The dry skin flakes loose, and if it is not removed by occasional bathing, the itching may be severe.

Obviously your mother needs baths to be more comfortable. Old folks, of course, shouldn't overdo bathing. Too many tub baths can remove a great deal of what little skin oil is available. A bath or two per week will help her. Use of bath oil or skin cream will lessen the itching.

Soap and water will start to relieve the odor in her room, too. Another thing to watch out for is the importance of clean clothes. When an older person refuses to bathe, it is quite typical to find a similar refusal to change clothes.

There is no royal road to success in overcoming this aversion to bathing, and I don't know exactly why it happens. With some old people it just does. With others it doesn't. Possibly the main reason is that it is just too much effort to bathe. There may also be a fear of slipping in the tub. Joints get stiff and creaky! As to clothes, it appears that some old folks, intent on "not being a bother," wear them too long between washings.

Finally, after a certain amount of pressure from the younger folks, the old person just turns stubborn.

The simplest solution I know — I should be delighted to hear of strategy that readers may have discovered — is to realize that many old people have to be treated like children, to a degree.

They are weary and weak, and unsure of themselves, and they need someone to treat them with the same kind of firmness that one uses with a child.

You don't harangue a small boy. You don't hint. You tell him matter-of-factly that it's time for his bath; that he must put his dirty clothes in the hamper and wear fresh ones tomorrow.

Dear Dr. Molner: My grandmother, who is concerned about her weight, claims that honey (which she uses a lot) is very good in a diet because it is low in calories and hence nonfattening. She says it is also easier to digest because it is predigested by the bee. Is this true?—S.N.N.

Grandmother is just plain deluding herself. Honey is principally sugar, hence is fattening. It has the same caloric value of an equivalent amount of sugar or syrup. The predigested notion is in error, too.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can a person have infectious mononucleosis and not have it show up in a blood test? Our daughter had all the other symptoms of this disease, and missed seven weeks of school. — Mr. R. C.

Yes, about one-third of cases may not have what is called a positive heterophil test, but other symptoms, along with a characteristic blood count, make the diagnosis unmistakable enough.

I realize that this is a rather technical answer, but it happens to be a rather technical question, although I know you didn't intend it to be.

I might add that there are a good many diseases which cannot be identified by any single test, but require evaluation of a number of symptoms before you know the right answer for sure.

Teachers of English in State Better Prepared

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The pupil in a Wisconsin high school today is receiving instruction in English from a teacher who is probably better prepared than the average high school English instructor in the country, reports the state Department of Public Instruction.

Citing a study by the Wisconsin Council of Teachers of English, the department said Wisconsin teachers "are far ahead of the national average in training courses recently taken" to improve themselves for their jobs.

Fewer than a fifth of the Wisconsin teachers reported that they have not taken special training courses during the last nine years, while in the country as a whole nearly a third said they had not taken special college work in the last 10 years. About 60 per cent of the Wisconsin English teachers were English majors in college, against 50 per cent in the country, according to the study.

Improvement in Order

But the state supervisory department, in a bulletin to the schools, emphasized that improvements are in order in the English programs of Wisconsin School, in spite of the comparative standing.

It noted that too many of the English teachers who have English teaching majors are not being used effectively. A fifth of them handle three classes, or less, each day, it was said.

The bulletin also noted that "it is amazing that even 10 per cent of all teachers have not taken English literature amounting to a year's (college) work." While it is probably necessary that some poorly prepared teachers are assigned to English classes, administrators should encourage them to take special studies. The department also said it is disturbing that only about 50 per cent of the English teachers of the state had advanced composition classes in college.

Union School District Fights Losing Battle

Number Now Down to 30 With Continued Pressure Toward Complete Elimination

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The separate high school district, under increasingly critical pressure from state education supervisors, is quietly on the retreat as a factor in the public school organization pattern of Wisconsin.

The state Department of Public Instruction says that such high school districts, operated independently of the satellite elementary districts and historically called union free high schools, now account for only about 6 per cent of the state-wide high school enrollment and about 7 per cent of the equalized property tax valuation of the state.

They now number 33. Experience of the last several years shows that they will be ultimately dissolved altogether, but the state agency and other educators are backing a bill now pending in the legislature that would abolish them forcibly and require the areas and residents in their districts to be attached to the integrated districts providing kindergarten to Grade 12 programs.

On Way Out

Some spokesmen for those remaining districts are fighting the dissolution bill fiercely, but a current bulletin of the state department repeats the view of Supt. Angus Rothwell that the four year school districts must ultimately disappear. Building problems and conflicts in building financing with the area elementary districts, as well as the attraction of more generous state aids under the integrated district system will soon extinguish them, the department said.

Remaining union high school districts in Wisconsin include Casco, Eagle River, Gibraltar, Luxemburg, Phelps and Rhinelander in the northeastern part of Wisconsin.

Appleton Woman Hurt in Crash

Mrs. Joyce E. Centner, 27, 1620 N. Hine St., received a chin laceration and bruised knees when the car she was driving was involved in a two-vehicle collision at U.S. 10 and County Trunk A about 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Centner was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by Larry's Ambulance. She was released after treatment.

Driver of the other car was Gerald C. Verkuilen, 22, 721 S. Bluemound Drive. Both vehicles were eastbound on U.S. 10 and the Verkuilen car was attempting to turn left onto A when the accident occurred, according to Outagamie County traffic police.

The front of the Centner car and the rear end of the Verkuilen car were damaged.

Man Hurt as He Trips on Tracks

Nick Weber, 79, 928 N. Union St., received minor injuries about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday when he apparantly tripped and fell near the railroad tracks in front of Appleton's No. 1 fire station, 700 N. Drew St.

A fire department alarm room operator saw Weber lying near the tracks and summoned the rescue squad. Weber was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released.
